AMERICA, BRITAIN, JAPAN AND ITALY MAY PARTICIPATE

French Objections to Naval Conference Believed Likely To Bring Acceptance by Mussolini

KELLOGG DEFENDS NOTE OF COOLIDGE

If Other Nations Follow French Lead Disarmament Solution Will Be Delayed Years, He Says.

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—Possibilities of a move toward a four-power naval conference at Geneva with France eliminated here tonight with receipt of the French reply declining President Coolidge's five-power suggestions.

The American proposals in their present form, the French communication said, "risk compromising the success" of the preparatory disarmament commission created by the League of Nations and already at work at Geneva.

That commission, it added, in French opinion, affords a place where the American proposal can be effectively examined.

Different Views Taken.

Earlier in the day, it was emphasized at the white house that President Coolidge had made his proposal because it was "perfectly evident" that no practical agreements for naval limitations were to be expected from the preparatory commission because of the participation of numerous small powers without or virtually without established status. The French reply took an exactly reverse view. It asserted the rule of the League of Nations employing the "principle of the equality of the powers, great or small," which principle, it said, would be injured by the American plan for a separate conference of the great naval powers.

Anti-Vamping Bill Offered For Nebraska

But Senator Chambers' Bill Falls Before Ax of Judiciary Committee.

Lincoln, Neb., February 15.—(AP)—Senator William N. Chambers' "anti-vamping" bill has fallen before the ax of the Nebraska senate judiciary committee.

The bill would have limited damages in alienation of affections or breach of promise suits to one cent. This bill, if it passed, would make real romance possible again. Senator Chambers urged, "In the movies alone you see any more the romance of the rich man's son marrying the shop girl. It doesn't happen in real life in these days because the rich man's son is afraid to have anything to do with poor girls. He has no way of knowing they may not be merely hamming to lay the foundations for a $50,000 damage suit."

The bill, however, was even denied the privilege of getting out on the senate floor.

The Trend of the Age

Jack—"Are you going to be at home tonight?"

Jill—"Why should I? I feel perfectly well."

Twenty-five years ago she would have said she would be at home, and if no one called she would have been reading anything to fill in the time.

The phonograph was the first break to come in that evening monotony; then vaudeville supplanted "varieties" and it was considered proper for a lady to attend them; followed then the low-priced auto, the movies, the radio, the dance craze, the bridge enthusiasm, and sports.

People do not read in the evenings in this age to the extent they used to, and advertisers who still cling to the idea that the bulk of the people are giving their advertisements consideration in the evening should analyze the situation for themselves.

The Constitution goes into the home in the morning, the serious period of the day, when there are no amusements, entertainments or diversions to distract the attention of the purchasing agent for the home. That is why—

Coolidge To Give New Recess Term To Judge Tilson

Republican Leaders Are Given Notice by White House of Intentions of President.

GEORGIA SENATORS SURPRISED BY PLAN

Threats of Retaliation Heard in Congress; Other Appointments May Be Held Up.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, February 15.—Threats of retaliation greeted reports today that President Coolidge was considering giving W. J. Tilson a recess appointment as federal judge for the middle district of Georgia after congress adjourns.

Senate opponents to Tilson's confirmation, who twice have caused the president to withdraw Tilson's nomination in the face of certain rejection by the senate, declared today after conferences that if the president insisted on keeping him on the bench, they would seek to hold up other presidential appointments and would block any attempt to provide pay for Tilson.

Under the law Tilson is not entitled to receive salary until he is confirmed by the senate but the usual practice has been to pass a resolution authorizing its payment.

Norris Indignant.

Chairman Norris, of the senate judiciary committee, which recently reported adversely on the nomination, expressed indignation over the recess appointment report and he predicted that if the president gave Tilson one and then sent his name to the next congress, it would be rejected without even the formality of reference to committee.

Senator Norris pointed out that the president was within his legal right to keep Tilson on the bench until the close of this congress and that he had the power to give him a recess appointment that would carry over to the December session of the next congress. But he added, such procedure "would violate the spirit of the constitution."

The fight against Tilson, who is a brother of John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, the republican floor leader in the house, has been led by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, who tonight expressed determination to continue his opposition to the end.

He declared that Tilson was not a resident of the judicial district at the time of his appointment and was therefore disqualified to serve as judge. He said a delegation of the Ku Klux Klan recently called on him in an effort to persuade him to discontinue his opposition.

REPUBLICANS TOLD OF COOLIDGE PLANS

Washington, February 15.—(Special.)—Word was carried from the white house to republican leaders at the capital today that President Coolidge intends to give a recess appointment to Judge Wm. J. Tilson of the middle Georgia judicial district, whose confirmation has been rejected.

WILLIAMS BOYS FREED ON BOND

Two Brothers, Charged With Murders on 'Peonage Farm,' Released; Cases Set for August.

Monticello, Ga., February 15.—(AP)—Bonds of $2,500 were made today by Marvin Williams and his brother, Huland Williams, who surrendered last night to answer indictments returned against them in 1921 growing out of investigations of alleged peonage conditions on the farm of their father, John S. Williams.

John S. Williams was convicted and given a life term in the state prison in connection with charges growing out of the death of eleven negroes on his farm. Peonage charges brought by the federal department of justice never were prosecuted.

The two brothers fled from the state when the indictments were returned in 1921 and were fugitives until last night when they gave themselves up to the sheriff of Jasper county. After a night in jail they gave bond and trial was set for the August term of superior court.

The indictments against the two brothers charged them with the deaths of two negroes. Huland faces trial for the death of a negro known as "Blacktrap" while Marvin is charged with the murder of John Littleton. Another indictment jointly charged Marvin and Leroy, another brother, with the death of a negro known as "Iron Jaw." Leroy surrendered about two years ago and asked for an immediate trial. He is free under bond.

The killing of the three negroes is said to have taken place some time before the federal investigation of peonage charges.

The two brothers also are under federal indictments in connection with the peonage charges but it was intimated by federal authorities that these would not be pressed until after the disposition of the murder cases.

Schumann-Heink Says Anna Goodman Will Surely Be Opera Star.

Anna Goodman, 16, of Marietta, is going to be a grand opera star some day, Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, greatest of all contraltos, who sings tonight at the auditorium, told her young Georgia girl had sung for the great artist in her apartment at the Georgian Terrace.

"She has the most beautiful and clearest natural soprano I ever heard," said Madame Schumann-Heink, enraptured with the girl's voice. Of course, Miss Goodman has received no training and it is only of the natural beauty of the voice that the famous singer could speak. But so confident is she of the girl's native ability, that she has promised to undertake her training herself, to make her a great singer and place her, when the proper time comes, upon the opera stage.

But upon one condition—Miss Goodman must not study voice training for the next two years. She must study piano and live the normal, healthy, happy life of a young girl. Then when the two years are up, she is to go to New York, to present herself to Madame Schumann-Heink, and her training will begin.

The audition with Madame Schumann-Heink was arranged by Mrs. Sam D. Jones, president of the Atlanta and Fulton Service Star Legion and life president of the Georgia division of that organization, as well as a national officer. With Mrs. Thomas R. Brumby, of Marietta, Mrs. Jones took a great interest in the young girl's voice and, when Mrs.

SENSATIONS SEEN SOON IN TRIALS OF FOUR BANKERS

Prosecuting Agents Hint That First of Series of Surprises May Be Dropped in Court Today

Sensational disclosures by the government may be expected within the next few days in the prosecution of four officials of the defunct Bankers' Trust company in United States district court, Federal District Attorney Clint W. Hager informed The Constitution Tuesday afternoon following adjournment of court for the second day of the trial.

Mr. Hager would not discuss the nature of the surprise—other than to state that the government probably will be ready to spring the first one today.

Prosecution and defense shared honors Tuesday in testimony from 13 witnesses, the defense for the first time taking up active cross-examination and with a good deal of success when testimony developed that the Bankers' Trust company had in a number of instances been of substantial aid to Georgia bankers.

High lights of testimony included the statement of G. M. Chastain, vice president of the Georgia State bank, of Montgomery, to the effect that his bank was aided, materially in 1921 by a loan from the Bankers' Trust company, the loan tiding the bank over "an emergency."

The statement of W. F. Floyd, secretary and treasurer of the United Realty company, that he signed notes in the name of this corporation, totaling $75,000, at the direction of W. D. Manley or P. J. Baker, and the statement of H. W. Blount, cashier of the Waynesboro Savings bank, that the Bankers' Trust company borrowed $50,000 from his bank within 30 days of the chain bank crash and that the Waynesboro bank's loss in the collapse was between $150,000 and $175,000.

Defendants Introduced.

Shortly after the opening of court Tuesday morning, the four co-defendants were introduced to the jury in order that jurors might distinguish them from the number of attorneys and other attendants at the trial. Defendants are P. J. Baker, J. A. Sasser, John D. Russell and L. E. Adams, who are charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the operation of the bank chain. W. D. Manley, president of the defunct bank chain, and the fifth defendant, has been granted an indefinite continuance because of ill health.

Sixteen witnesses out of a total of 39 summoned have testified to date, 13 appearing Tuesday and three Monday. One of the most important witnesses Tuesday was W. F. Floyd, secretary and treasurer of the United Realty company, one of the subsidiary corporations of the Bankers' Trust company. Floyd testified that he had never attended a directors' meeting of the realty corporation and said that he did not own any of the stock. Floyd further testified that the company had no assets and that he signed notes when they were given him at the direction of Manley or Baker.

The principal feature of introduction of evidence Tuesday was the presentation by District Attorney Hager, of participation certificates of the Amortization corporation, issued on indebtedness of that company, and letters in which Bankers' Trust company officials unqualifiedly recommended and guaranteed the certificates.

Hager Takes Reins.

Mr. Hager also introduced the capital stock and tax return of the Amortization corporation, signed and sworn to by Defendant Adams, as president of the company, for 1923, 1924 and 1925.

'Convert the Preachers' Billy Sunday Appeals

EVANGELIST DUBS MODERNISTS "PACK OF PERVERTS"

BY HERB MCUSKER.

Denouncing the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick and modernists of Christian churches as a "pretentious, plausible pack of mental perverts," dedicated to the destruction of religion, and as "liars, so labelled by the authority of God," Billy Sunday Tuesday night, in the second of two meetings held in the Baptist tabernacle here, declared to a capacity audience that the church's first duty is to "convert the preachers" and to thwart "insidious modernist propaganda that is sweeping America."

Reiterating his belief in the literal translation of the Bible, "not as containing the word of God, but as the word of God itself," the famous revivalist vehemently ridiculed those who "conjure their own translation," "measure God by a two-foot rule and an apothecary's scale," and "trace their genealogy to a zoological garden," using phraseology that brought roars of applause from the crowd that filled every niche and corner in the vast auditorium.

"Was Jesus the Son of Joseph?" was Sunday's subject, taken from Matthew 22:42. While lacking in the usual Sunday color and dash, the talk introduced to the assemblage a revivalist whom few recognized; who disdained happy combination of synonyms in favor of forceful logic.

Man But Atom.

"Man is but an atom that returns from whence it came, and whose only hope of eternal existence stands or falls upon the Christ," he said, in introducing his attack on modernism. "God made Adam and Eve—even modernists admit—but a faction has doubted that the God that created Adam and Eve was capable of the miraculous birth of Jesus Christ by the Virgin Mary and by the power of the Holy Ghost."

"The virgin birth of Christ was proven," he declared.

REED DENOUNCES JUVENILE CRIME G. O. P. CORRUPTION LIST IS SWOLLEN

Charges Coolidge With Acquiescence in Pennsylvania Election Scandals.

Indianapolis, February 15.—(AP)—With corruption as his theme, Senator James Reed of Missouri, soon to be brought forward formally as a democratic presidential candidate, denounced a sweeping denunciation of the republican party in an address here tonight before a state association of democratic editors.

After tracing alleged republican irregularities from the days of Alexander Hamilton to the present, the Missouri senator, who was the leading spirit behind the senate inquiry into campaign expenditures, declared that "the red line of corruption runs through the capitol of the nation and crosses the white house grounds."

He charged President Coolidge with acquiescence in the "Pennsylvania election corruption," and with dereliction of public duty by failure to move toward prosecution of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, and the principals in the oil scandals.

Turning on Frank O. Lowden, the senator declared the former Illinois governor "is now appearing on the horizon again as the special angel and champion of the farmers."

Attacks Lowden.

"He is about as well qualified for that position," Reed said, "as I would be for leader of the angelic choir."

Lowden, he added, had been re-elected by the exposure of the "payment of $38,000 to certain politicians of the state of Missouri in consideration of the Missouri vote in the oncoming republican convention."

Describing the recent Pennsylvania election as the "Pennsylvania inquiry," Reed declared that "here again we must literally start at the white house."

"The secretary of the treasury," he added, "is a man who has been in the white house."

Georgia School Offered

GIFT CONDITIONED ON DOUBLE MATCHING

$50,000 By Rockefeller

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has pledged a maximum contribution of $50,000 to the Rabun Gap school at Rabun Gap, Ga., as part of a fund of $150,000 now being raised to effect a merger of that school with Nacoochee institute. Both schools were visited by fires a few months ago which destroyed their principal buildings. Both are farm schools for boys and girls of very limited means and serve the same mountain region of northeast Georgia and contiguous territory.

Terms of a merger have been agreed upon by which the two institutions will be consolidated and rebuilt as Rabun Gap-Nacoochee school at Rabun Gap.

Mr. Rockefeller's gift will be made in the proportion of one dollar for every two dollars secured from other contribution sources until his part is $50,000, officials said Tuesday in announcing the offer of the capitalist. In order to obtain this maximum pledge, a total of $150,000 must be raised before July 1, 1927.

Mr. Rockefeller's representative, Thomas B. Appleget, in a letter to A. J. Ritchie, head of the Rabun Gap school, stated that the gift was made because of Mr. Rockefeller's faith in the unique and worthwhile work which has been carried on at Rabun Gap and because of his belief that the successful completion of the campaign by which the two schools are to be united will establish the institution on a firm financial basis.

Agent Inspects Situation.

Mr. Rockefeller had made a pledge of $10,000 as a part of $100,000 for the Rabun Gap school before the two schools were wrecked by fire. After the fires the general education board sent its field agent to Rabun Gap to make a study of the educational situation in this territory. This agent made

OPPOSITION FAILS AS VOTE CARRIES BILL, 201 TO 62

With Adjournment Barely Two Weeks Away, Long-Faired Filibuster Does Not Come.

MELLON'S LETTER SHOWS NO EFFECT

Congressmen Who Voted Against Previous McNary-Haugen Bills Find Explanation Necessary.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, February 15.—(United News.)—Last hopes of killing off farm relief by a filibuster faded out today when the house voted to substitute for its own bill the slightly different version which passed the senate a few days ago. The differences in the two bills are trivial and technical.

Final enactment of this measure is imminent and it will go to the white house immediately after the house takes its final vote.

This was assured today by the substitution of the senate bill for the almost identical house bill. Had the house passed its own bill, a conference to revise the two measures into one identical version would have been necessary. This revised bill would have had to be voted upon by the house and the senate. With adjournment barely two weeks away, a filibuster might have prevented final action.

The collapse of the opposition was indicated in the fact that only 62 votes were mustered against substituting the senate bill while there were 201 for it. This was the last chance of the opposition to throw sand in the machine and a close vote had been expected. After the vote, however, it was said around the lobby of the house that the opponents of the bill deliberately refrained from showing their full strength, preferring to reserve that for the final vote.

The Aswell revolving loan fund bill was offered later as a substitute. This will be voted on Thursday, the house having decided to suspend consideration of farm relief tomorrow to permit action on small bills on the calendar.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's letter characterizing the equalization fee as unworkable, expensive and an encouragement to unscrupulous persons who wanted to cheat the government has apparently changed no votes in the house.

Chaplin Home Less Alimony Given to Lita

Beverly Hills Mansion Is Awarded to Comedian's Wife by California Judge.

Los Angeles, Cal., February 15.—(United News.)—Lita Grey Chaplin may occupy Charlie's Beverly Hills mansion, which she left under alleged threats of death, but her temporary alimony will be cut $1,000 a month—to $3,000.

Judge Walter Guerin made this ruling today after Mrs. Chaplin, extremely chic in a blue ensemble suit, smart hat and pearl gray fur-trimmed coat, recited briefly in a crowded courtroom a few of the reasons why she left the screen comedian.

In making his decision, Judge Guerin pointed out that Lita would not have to pay rent if she occupied Charlie's home and, therefore, ordered the $1,000-a-month reduction.

A heavy downpour did not deter the curious from going to the hearing. Mrs. Chaplin told of the midnight party which led to the estrangement from the millionaire actor.

"That night I brought guests home with me. Charlie, who I did not know was at home, came to the stairs and yelled: 'Get that wild bunch out of here. Get them out quick. What do you think this is?'"

"I sent the guests away and then Charlie called me to his room. He picked up a revolver and said: 'I'll kill you if you leave this house and tell the newspapers this.'"

"Then I ran into my own room and shut the door. The next morning I left the house with my children."

U. S. DIPLOMATS ARE DISAPPOINTED BY FRENCH REPLY

Outright Refusal of President Coolidge's Plan To Limit Armaments Is Carefully Avoided.

MINISTER BRIAND DELIVERS ANSWER

France Suggests That Coolidge Submit His Proposals to Preparatory Commission of League.

BY RALPH HEINZEN.

Paris, February 15.—(United News.)—France replied today to President Coolidge's proposal for further reduction of naval armaments, avoiding definite refusal of the American suggestions but setting forth objections that are interpreted as amounting to a polite rejection.

Foreign Minister Aristide Briand delivered the French note to the American embassy, which cabled it at once to Washington.

The reaction among American diplomats was one of disappointment. They interpreted the tenor of the note as a refusal of President Coolidge's suggestion for a new five-power naval agreement.

Counter Proposal Made.

As a counter-suggestion to the Coolidge proposal for conference between France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and the United States, limiting armament of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, France proposed that Coolidge submit his proposals to the preparatory commission of the League of Nations, which is already actively considering the phases of disarmament.

The French reply carefully restated the known French position upon disarmament—that arms limitation should be considered as applying to sea, air and land armaments as a whole.

Answer of France To America on Page 2

whole. The American proposal would set aside the method adopted by the preparatory commission at Geneva to consider the potential war strength of each nation as a whole, it was pointed out.

Equality Wanted.

The French reply also takes a stand that all powers should have equal consideration in disarmament discussion and concludes that all nations interested in naval disarmament should be included in such a meeting of the powers. It is recalled in the note that the Rome conference for smaller powers failed to ratify the decisions of the Washington disarmament conference.

The note was so phrased as to leave the way open for further suggestions from Washington and carefully avoided any outright refusal of the Coolidge proposals.

JAP SHIPBUILDING URGED BY PREMIER.

Tokio, February 15.—(AP)—Premier Wakatsuki told the house of peers today that naval construction should proceed in Japan, notwithstanding the government's decision to participate in the naval disarmament conference proposed by President Coolidge.

The premier urged the peers to pass the naval construction bill because, he said, it was impossible to foretell the result of the conference of world powers.

MUSCLE SHOALS PLANS MULTIPLY

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—Muscle Shoals again came to the fore in the senate and house today. Two new proposals were made for disposing of that project this session.

In the senate a joint resolution was offered by Chairman McNary, of the agriculture committee, proposing to create another joint Muscle Shoals congressional commission to study the problem during the recess and report its recommendations to congress next December.

The house added to its already bulging stock of Muscle Shoals proposals a measure by Representative Algood, Democrat, Alabama, to provide for government operation of the property for the production of fertilizer and the sale of the surplus power, with the president empowered to set up the machinery of operation.

Meanwhile, the house military subcommittee labored on its report, which it is understood, recommends the rejection of the two pending bills as unsuitable in their present form.

Still another proposition was advanced by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, who proposes a bill to authorize the expenditure of another $13,000,000 to complete the construction of the power units at Muscle Shoals.

He explained that the power units never were completed by the government and that economy demands the additional expenditure, which, he said, would double the present power producing capacities of both the water and steam units were finished.

In view of the developments, Chairman McNary has called a meeting of the agriculture committee for Thursday to thresh out what action this congress should take.

A majority of the last joint congressional commission recommended acceptance of a bill of the Associated Power companies while a minority held for the American Cyanamid Corporation's proposal. When the reports were submitted to the senate, however, a poll showed a strong minority against the power bid and the supporters of the Cyanamid offer declined to submit to a test of strength.

PHONE EMPLOYEES ELECTRIFY CROWD WITH PULCHRITUDE

A Valentine Review, staged by Atlanta Bell Telephone employees, electrified a crowd which packed the Atlanta theater to capacity Tuesday night. Hellos of the switchboard, more often heard than seen, are not hard to look upon. There was a blond chorus, and a brunette chorus, specialty dances and vari-colored costumes of electric blues and short circuit reds—tidy units all.

The program included a Shakespearean farce, "The Midsummer Night's Dream," starring George T. Bush as Pyramus; a vocal solo number by Vaughan Omer; Bob Chapman and his ukulele; saxophone and accordion features by Shrader and Taylor, and a black face sketch by Carlton Moll and Roy Freeman, supported by a Georgia mule.

The offering was sponsored by the Atlanta Advisory council, the local chapter, under the direction of V. W. Curry. The Bell Telephone company orchestra provided the accompaniment.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY SCHOOL BUDGET TODAY

Consideration of the revised budget of the Atlanta public schools calling for expenditure this year of $2,700,000 is slated by the advisory committee for a meeting this afternoon. The session today hinges on the return to Atlanta this morning of Harold Hirsch, chairman, and W. W. Orr, member, who have been out of town since the new sheet was approved by the board February 8.

It is expected that the committee also will demand that he audit of school accounts for 1926 made at once and submitted to it for study. Although no intimation of irregularities has been made, members of the committee are said to take the position that information such a statistical review would furnish would be almost invaluable in making suggestions for further economies necessary to keep the system within the budget for the year.

In revising the sheet the board voted to suspend schools and cease payment of salaries to employees of the system for a month between September 1 and January 1. It is expected that this also will draw the fire of the committee in what is forecast as a stormy session.

1925. In the capital stock and tax return, Mr. Adams swore to the fact that the company was insolvent, the government brought out. "Mr. Adams, during this entire period, executed notes, signed them and turned them over to the Bankers Trust company to float on victim banks," Mr. Hager developed.

From the capital stock and tax papers, Mr. Hager showed that on December 31, 1922, the company had assets of $674,439, against liabilities of $686,551, or a deficit of $12,112. Exhibit "C" of this evidence showed the $100,000 capital stock of the E. R. Parker Motor company, said to have been insolvent and in process of liquidation.

Testimony Tuesday was chiefly devoted to identification of letters and papers sent to member banks of the chain by officials of the Atlanta Savings bank, testified to the apparent sound mental condition of Manley as displayed in previous business deals, and in a loan of $25,000 on real estate.

Had To Force Manley. Floyd, secretary and treasurer of the United Realty company, testified that Manley had, on occasions, authorized loans to banks known to be insolvent and that Russell and Adams several times brought pressure to bear on Manley to force certain Florida accounts to settlements.

Court will recess at 10 o'clock this morning for further testimony in the case. District Attorney Hager is taking up each transaction in turn by companies, the first corporation being the Amortization corporation, of which Adams was president.

Witnesses who testified Tuesday follow: George L. Wood, of Atlanta; R. M. Cook, assistant district attorney; W. F. Floyd, Jr., of the United Realty company; Henry W. MARIETTA GIRL PRAISED BY DIVA

Jones sat with Madame Schumann-Heink at the luncheon given in the singer's honor on Monday by the Georgia and Atlanta camps of the D. A. V., she spoke for the young singer and secured the promise of the audition.

All of Marietta has long taken pride in Anna Goodman's voice. Now they will know their pride was properly placed and that their belief in their young townswoman's gift was justified.

Good Seats Unsold.

Madame Schumann-Heink appears in concert tonight at the auditorium, for the benefit of the Atlanta Symphony association, under whose auspices she sings. While there are still a number of good seats left at the box office at the Phillips and Crew Piano company, 181 Peachtree street, the demand since the sale opened Saturday has surpassed all previous concert attractions of the present season.

In line with its object to bring the greatest musical attractions at the lowest possible rates, the association set the price scale extremely low, seats ranging from 50 cents to $2 each. There are only a few seats left unsold at 50 cents and $1, but a considerable number of the $1.50 and $2 seats in the arena are still unsold. These will be on sale all day today at Phillips and Crew, until 6 o'clock. After that hour the box office will be removed to the auditorium. A limited amount of standing room will be available after the last seat is sold and it is possible that a few reservations will not be taken up. These will be put on sale when the box office opens at the auditorium, it was announced.

Lots of talk, now, about waterways, but more about liquor ways. Men with vaulting ambitions should never jump at conclusions.

KELLOGG DEFENDS PLAN OF COOLIDGE

Such a move, it was added, would also "weaken the authority of the League of Nations so essential to the peace of the world."

In view of the French attitude, official attention was centered on Italy's reply. It is expected to be an acceptance. Some officials go so far as to say that French refusal makes Italian acceptance the more probable.

As Japanese acceptance seems officially assured and British acceptance has been forecast, the four-power possibility is already taking shape in official quarters. If examination of the replies of the other three powers leaves any hope for attempting to go on without France, it seems wholly probable that such a suggestion will be forthcoming from Washington. Some officials believe there are elements in the European political situation which might contribute to success of such a move.

Compliments Coolidge. The French note, polite in tone, opened with an expression of French appreciation of "the noble initiative of President Coolidge" as well as reassertion of the "pacific will" of France. Appreciation of the American proposal to leave its proposals "flexible in an endeavor to take into account the special conditions and requirements of the continental powers" also was expressed.

Article eight of the league covenant, it was pointed out, however, made general arms limitation "one of the essential duties of the league" with its fulfillment, culminating in creation of the Geneva preparatory commission. The new American proposal, it was added, would divert the commission "of an essential question which figures on its program" to create "on the side" a conference of a few powers.

Would Weaken League. From this viewpoint it was asserted that the American proposal would weaken authority of the league, "so essential to the peace of the world," and injure the principle of equality of powers "great or small" to which the league is pledged.

For herself, France reaffirmed the position stated at Washington and again at Geneva for limitation by "global tonnage" under which each power retained freedom to divide an agreed total tonnage limit into such classes of ships as "the sense of its necessities" dictated. The French position that land, sea and air armaments must be considered jointly, also is reaffirmed.

In conclusion, the French reply challenged the American expressed belief that there is no hope of early practical results from the preparatory conference. On the contrary, it said, provided other powers bring to those negotiations like France, "a firm resolve to succeed," there would be "serious chances" of the successful arrangement for a general conference of disarmament.

DISARMAMENT SOLUTION DELAY IS PREDICTED. Washington, February 15.—(United News.)—If France's attitude toward disarmament is to be followed by world powers there will be no real solution for years to come, Secretary of State Kellogg declared tonight in commenting on the French refusal to participate in the five-power naval conference proposed last week by President Coolidge.

Kellogg declared that the league has done nothing at all toward disarmament.

Problem Difficult. "Our proposal is made because we recognize that the disarmament problem is exceedingly difficult to solve and if naval, land and air disarmament are to be considered as one problem applying to all the nations of the world a solution will hardly be reached for years to come," Kellogg said in a statement. "It is true that Article 8 of the covenant entrusts the problem of disarmament to the league. Nothing was done, however, except at the Washington conference.

"The limitation of naval armament is a concrete proposition applying to the five powers and can be disposed of at the Geneva conference without interfering at all with the work and without in any way binding other powers.

"I very much hope that before the Geneva conference is ended the French government lends its aid to the consummation of such an agreement. Kellogg explained that he had not had time to study the French note carefully.

"There appear, however, to be serious points in it which must be caused by a misunderstanding of the full purpose of the proposals made by this government," Kellogg said.

U. S. To Contribute. "The president clearly stated that the United States intends to continue its participation in the preparatory disarmament meeting, and will make every effort to contribute helpfully to the final success of that body. Indeed, the president specifically expressed the belief that our proposal would be a distinct contribution to such success. There can be no question of our desire to see the efforts towards disarmament produce actual results.

"It was the desire of the president to remove the incentive to competitive naval building by such a limitation agreement and at the same time to continue unabated the common effort toward the more general reduction and limitation of armaments.

"It seems to me that the postponement to the indefinite future of all efforts to grapple with the problem of competitive naval building would strike a serious blow to the whole cause of disarmament."

Nearly 3 BILLION DOLLARS Saved the Public by Freight Rate Reductions Since 1921

If the shippers of freight over American railroads had been obliged to pay, during the years 1922 to 1926 inclusive, the same rate for moving freight, measured by the cost per ton mile, that was paid in 1921 (under order of the Interstate Commerce Commission), the aggregate cost would have been approximately $3,000,000,000 greater.

The saving, in round numbers, has been as follows:

1922 compared with 1921 . . .	$319,000,000
1923 compared with 1921 . . .	639,000,000
1924 compared with 1921 . . .	606,000,000
1925 compared with 1921 . . .	528,000,000
1926 compared with 1921 . . .	874,000,000
Total saved in 5 years . . .	$2,966,000,000

The aggregate freight rates have been reduced about 15% since 1921. In addition, the railroads have handled nearly 46% more traffic; and the public has received more prompt and efficient service.

Savings to L. & N. Patrons
More than $72,000,000

During this five-year period, Louisville & Nashville Railroad freight rates, as measured by the revenue ton miles, have decreased 17.2%; and the aggregate savings in freight bills to the patrons of the Road have been more than $72,000,000.

These facts and figures are published because it is believed that they will be of sufficient interest to the public to justify their being made known.

MAL DAUGHERTY IS DROLL WITNESS

New York, February 15.—(AP)—Mal S. Daugherty beamed brightly today on United States Attorney Buckner, who called him to the stand to testify against his brother, Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general. Mal twiddled his fingers, thumbed his pocket knife and set Judge John C. Knox, United States attorney, defense counsel and spectators laughing with droll replies about the way he and his brother kept their personal accounts.

"Well," Mal replied to a question about whether he ever drew money from his brother's account, "Whenever I needed any of Harry's money, I just wrote myself a check."

"And did money from your account go into his?"

"Yes, but when he needed any, he had to ask me about it. But I just took it from him without asking."

Mal Daugherty was preceded as a witness by Miss Vera Veal, assistant cashier of his bank at Washington Court House, Ohio. Through her the government adduced testimony to show that records, it alleges would reveal that Harry Daugherty shared part of an alleged bribe of $441,000 were missing.

The government expects to close its case tomorrow morning.

Russians Caught.

Gasoline Prices Cut to 23 Cents, Level of Pan-Am

A two-cent cut in gasoline prices taking effect Tuesday morning throughout the states of Georgia and Florida was reported Tuesday by Atlanta officials of the Standard Oil, Gulf Refining, Sinclair and Wofford Oil companies.

Tuesday's reduction was general among the larger companies with the exception of the Texas Oil company, whose local retail prices were reported at 25 cents per gallon, and the Pan-American Petroleum company, which did not follow the lead of other companies in boosting prices last week but continued to retail gasoline at 23 cents throughout the city.

The cause of the reductions was not explained by company officials Tuesday, but it was said that failure of the Pan-Am company to follow the two-cent increase put into effect last week was the cause of Tuesday's reductions.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAUGHT AFTER 18 YEARS AT LARGE

Notice of the capture of Walter Hawkins, negro convict, was received Tuesday by the state prison commission.

Hawkins was serving a life term in the state prison and escaped in August, 1909, eluding capture for nearly 19 years. He was recaptured at Waycross. He will be sent to Terrell county to finish serving his term.

FITZGERALD SEEKS TO BAN CITY TAXES

Fitzgerald, Ga., February 15.—(Special.)—Fitzgerald will be one of the first cities in Georgia without ad valorem taxes and licenses, if the plans of the water and light commission mature. The commission has completely rebuilt the plant in the past three years out of earnings and with the installation of the final unit this spring, expects to develop sufficient revenue in 1928 to take care of the ordinary expenses of the city.

Additional reductions in the price of current for domestic and commercial uses are to go into effect March 1. With the installation of the new machinery, current will be available for factory uses, for which the commission has made a special low rate. J. D. Dorniney, cashier of the Exchange National bank; Dr. A. H. Denmark and Ed Hussey, of Hussey and Bowles, electricians, are the board of commissioners, to whom the success of the plant is largely due.

MORTIMER DOUGLAS PASSES SUDDENLY

Funeral arrangements for Mortimer Douglas, southern sales representative of the E. P. Mr. Douglas has covered the territory which includes Atlanta, for the last 36 years, and has many friends in the publishing and book-selling business in this city.

He is survived by his wife. The body is in care of H. M. Patterson & Son until further arrangements can be made. It is expected to be removed to New York for burial.

WOMEN VOTERS ADD 92 MEMBERS IN DRIVE

During the past week the League of Women Voters has added 92 members in a membership campaign to continue through February, according to reports to Mrs. Alfred Bailey, chairman of the drive.

The next report meeting will take place at 11:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic club Friday morning.

Mrs. J. W. Willis brought in the greatest number of members, and Mrs. R. L. Beddingfield's squad led all others. Mrs. Harold Roberts' squad came second and Mrs. B. G. Ottwell's squad third. Each week a prize is offered for the member securing the greatest number above her quota.

On Friday night Mrs. R. L. Turman will speak before the Kirkwood P. T. A. Mrs. John Rowlett will speak before several organizations during the week.

The regular league luncheon will be held at 12:30 o'clock at the Athletic club Friday.

REED MAY CALL SESSION TO HEAR LYNCHING PLEAS

Waycross, Ga., February 15.—(Special.)—Judge H. D. Reed probably will call a special session of Coffee county superior court within several days, to hear pleas of guilty in connection with the recent Coffee county lynching case, it was announced here today.

Solicitor General Allen B. Spence says G. R. Bullard, 26, and D. B. Lott, 18, held in the Ware county jail here in connection with the Dave Wright lynching, are ready to enter pleas, having notified him of this intention.

No jury will be empaneled, it is understood, and no business will be presented except the Bullard and Lott pleas.

Gaines Lastinger, sentenced two weeks ago to serve a life term, in connection with the same case, has appealed to the supreme court for a new trial and is being held in the Ware jail here pending action of the higher court. Tilden Smith, whose case was declared a mistrial at the same session Lastinger was convicted, is held in the Coffee county jail at Douglas.

The only alleged member of the mob indicted by the grand jury who has not been apprehended is Make Tanner, and a continued search is being made for him, it being alleged that he was one of the ringleaders in the lynching.

MABEL NORMAND REPORTED BETTER, STILL IN DANGER

Beverly Hills, Cal., February 15.—(AP)—Mabel Normand, who has been ill with bronchial pneumonia at her home here for nearly two weeks, is better today than she was yesterday, although not yet out of danger.

Accompanying a contribution of $1,600 to the Georgia association from the Georgia Railway and Power company, was a letter praising the association's activities from F. B. Cullen, general manager of the power company, according to announcement Tuesday by F. H. Abbott, secretary.

"The Georgia association will work the transformation which all of us know is necessary," the letter stated. "Its work will be reflected in increasing prosperity in the largest city and the smallest farm site in Georgia alike."

LOCAL TEXAS ALUMNI TO MEET MARCH 2

Atlanta "Texas-Exes," as University of Texas alumni are known, will gather at the Ansley hotel on March 2, to observe their annual alumni day, which also commemorates the independence of Texas, it was announced Tuesday by Mrs. Parks Johnson, head of the local group.

There are about 35 former students of Texas university living in Atlanta. Mrs. Johnson stated, adding that all are expected to be present for the special entertainment. Dinner reservations can be made through Mrs. Johnson, at Dearborn 1708-J.

SCHOOL TRUCK RUNS DOWN AND KILLS BOY

Louisville, Ga., February 15.—(AP) Frank McNeely, eight-year-old son of W. R. McNeely, farmer living about five miles from this place, was accidentally killed this morning when run over by a school truck driven by W. E. Miller. The child was playing in the road while waiting for the truck to go in some way got under the rear wheels when the car was driven up to take the McNeely children to school.

FINAL RITES TODAY FOR MAURICE AHEARN

Funeral services for Maurice A. Ahearn, 76, of 326 Lakewood avenue, who died Tuesday at a private sanatorium, will be held this morning from the Church of Immaculate Conception, of which he was a member. The Rev. Emmet M. Walsh will officiate and interment will be at Oakland.

Mr. Ahearn is survived by a step-daughter, Mrs. W. H. Burroughs, and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Charles Jordan. He was a member of the Elks, the Red Men's lodge, and the Knights of Columbus. For more than thirty years he has been a cooper-smith for the Southern railway.

LIQUOR IS REMOVED FROM RAIDED STILL

The theory that former operators of a mammoth still, destroyed last week by county police, unearthened seven barrels of liquor near the location of the still tunnel and took it away Sunday night, was expressed by county police when they again visited the premises and found the empty containers near a freshly-dug pit.

The person or persons evidently had the liquor buried for some time, as county police made a minute search of the premises but the hidden cache was not found.

Marine Corps Buildings.

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—President Coolidge today signed a bill authorizing the construction of buildings at the Quantico, Va., marine corps base, to replace temporary structures erected during the war. An expenditure of $2,205,000 is contemplated.

Luckie Property Owners Want Car Tracks To Stay

Visions of establishing Luckie street as a traffic boulevard unhampered by street car tracks were disappointed Tuesday when Councilman Harry York, of the sixth, announced that an informal poll of property owners has registered objections to removal of the tracks on the stretch from Cain street to North avenue.

Mr. York and a committee of citizens will appear at the next meeting of Fulton county commissioners to seek financial aid in the widening, grading and repaving of Luckie street from Bartow to North avenue, despite the fact that some members of the commission already have declared they feel the trolley tracks should be removed if such an improvement as is contemplated is made.

Some property owners also had suggested that the street car tracks be taken off.

Councilman York and a committee of citizens appeared before the Fulton county commission at its last meeting and requested an appropriation to defray the cost of widening and repaving. The board suggested that definite attitude of the citizens on Luckie street be obtained relative to removal of the car tracks before it took any action on the request for aid.

An investigation by Councilman York, he stated, revealed that approximately 90 per cent of the property owners are opposed to taking up the car tracks. He said that he consulted Frank Butler, of the Georgia Railway and Power company, who informed him that the company had no interest in the matter except to abide by what a majority of the citizens affected desire.

PONZI APOLOGIZES TO COURT; DECIDES AGAINST APPEAL

Boston, February 15.—(AP)—Charles Ponzi, "postal coupon wizard" of 1920, today declared he would take his "medicine" which was in the form of a seven to nine-year imprisonment as a common and notorious thief.

The sentence had been waiting for him seven months, while he engaged in real estate business in Florida, worked as waiter on an Italian steamship in an effort to reach his native land, was arrested in New Orleans by a Texas sheriff and while he fought by every conceivable appeal to Texas courts and governors to prevent his return to Massachusetts.

But today he apologized to the court. "I am sorry," he said, "that I did not keep my unwritten pledge to return and surrender last June. I am aware that I did not perhaps do what I was expected to do by your honor and my bondsmen, and I apologize."

E. R. LOWRY FUNERAL HELD ON TUESDAY

Funeral services for E. R. Lowry, prominent Boy Scout worker, who died suddenly Monday morning at the home, 853 Zachary street, West End, were held Tuesday afternoon from the residence. The Rev. E. L. Flanagan, pastor of the West End Presbyterian church, officiated, and interment was in West View.

He is survived by two sons, Elmer Joseph Lowry and A. B. F. Lowry, of Augusta; a sister, Miss Winona Lowry, of Dayton, Ohio, and a brother, Albert F. Lowry, of Indianapolis, Ind. Atlanta Elks lodge No. 78, conducted ceremonies at the grave. Barclay & Brandon company was in charge.

MILD WEATHER WILL CONTINUE, SAYS FORECAST

No change in Atlanta's mild weather is expected today, despite increasing cloudiness, and rains are predicted for extreme northern portions of Georgia, according to the forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist of the local United States weather bureau.

"The first 15 days of February were exceedingly warm," the weatherman stated, "and though no records were broken by temperatures, the mercury registered on an average of 13 degrees above normal for every day during the first half of the month."

Tuesday's temperatures ranged from a low of 52 degrees to a maximum of 69 degrees. No significant change in thermometer registrations are predicted today and skies are expected to remain clear, notwithstanding threatened precipitation.

LOAN ASSOCIATION ELECTS DIRECTORS

Election of four new members to the board of directors of the Columbia Building and Loan association, featured a meeting of officials held recently. Those named were Dr. Albert B. Kennedy, A. S. Nance, J. S. Fraser and Edward Kneisel.

An executive committee to include Victor H. Kriegshaber, Charles J. Holditch, F. A. Wilson-Lawrence, Julian V. Boehm, Joseph B. Cleveland, Dr. Fred S. Hames and Harry M. Root was also named at the meeting. An appraisal committee of Ward Wight, Richard C. Shoup, John Ray Pattillo, Arthur I. May and Walter F. Felton was appointed.

To secure the absolute protection of its policyholders in the United States the company actually maintains on deposit with United States Trustees approved securities equal to its net liability to American policyholders.

Policies written and payable in United States currency.

TOTAL INVESTMENTS IN UNITED STATES SECURITIES EXCEED $125,000,000

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

The operations during the past year have resulted in substantial advances in all departments. . . .

The new policies paid for . . . almost double the figures of two years ago.

The assurances in force, after deduction of reinsurance, . . . show an increase of . . . over twenty-three per cent.

Policies and group certificates now outstanding aggregate well in excess of half a million.

The high quality and profitable character of our investments has again been demonstrated. As a result of continued reduction in prevailing rates of interest, and of satisfactory industrial conditions, there has been a further rise in the market values of our long-term bonds and of our preferred and other stocks. The appraisal of our securities made by the Government Insurance Department shows that the excess of market values over cost has increased during the year by $6,894,266.26. In addition, the sum of $1,729,364.52 has been realized as net profit from the redemption or sale of municipal debentures and other securities which had risen to high premiums. The rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets has also risen to the remarkable figure of 6.69 per cent, as the result of substantial dividend increases, bonuses, and stock privileges received in connection with many of our holdings.

The quality of the investments listed in the assets may be judged from the fact that on 99.55 per cent of the bonds and on 99.71 per cent of the preferred stocks, not one dollar of interest or dividend is in arrear for even one day. On our common stocks the dividends now being received are greatly in excess of the dividends payable on the same stocks at time of purchase.

The total surplus earned during the year amounted to $20,457,077.28. From this the following appropriations have been made:

The sum of $2,000,000 has been deducted from the official valuation of our securities to provide for possible fluctuations in market values. This raises the amount set aside for this purpose to $5,000,000. In other words, the value at which our securities are carried in the balance sheet is $5,000,000 less than the appraisal made by the Government authorities.

The account to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been increased by $1,000,000 bringing the total under this heading to $11,000,000. . . .

An additional amount of $400,000 has been set aside to provide for greater longevity of annuitants. The total held under this heading in excess of Government requirements, is now $1,500,000. . . .

To our policyholders, profits have been paid or allotted during the year to the amount of $9,235,526.80.

After making these deductions and allocations an addition of $5,371,564.56 has been made to the undivided profits. The surplus over all liabilities, contingency accounts and capital stock, now stands at $34,011,565.25.

For six years in succession we have increased the profits to participating policyholders. During this period our profit scale has been doubled. While the assurances in force have multiplied two and a half times since 1920, the amount paid or allotted as profits to policyholders has multiplied five and a half times. We are gratified to announce, for the seventh consecutive time, a further increase in the scale of profits to be distributed to our policyholders in the ensuing year.

PLAN NEW HOTEL NEAR BRUNSWICK

Long-felt need for a modern, up-to-date hotel in the Brunswick resort will be filled within the near future by the erection of a 100-room hotel on the St. Simon's or Long Island, according to plans discussed Tuesday by W. Jennings Butts, prominent land developer of Brunswick, who is in Atlanta in connection with the proposed development.

Plans for the new hotel have not been completed, but are rapidly going forward, Mr. Butts said. The hotel site has not been definitely decided upon, but it will be either on St. Simon's Island, or Long Island, the latter being owned by Howard E. Coffin, Detroit millionaire.

Mr. Butts declared that it is hoped to begin work on the hotel in time to have it ready for the next winter season, as every effort is being made to rush the plans to completion.

"Though," he added, "there are a number of details to be attended to before we can hope to begin work on the structure."

A modern hotel of sufficient size will be a wonderful addition to the Brunswick resort section, Mr. Butts pointed out. "Glynn county has many points of interest to attract tourists and winter visitors, and with a good hotel as a hand to house them, our resort business would pick up wonderfully," he declared.

Many Attractions.

There are many features in and around Brunswick to attract visitors.

The scenery in itself is well worth the trip to the coast, while there are sports such as surf bathing on wonderful beaches, shady lanes for a stroll, waters abounding with fish and woods filled with game.

One treads on almost holy ground on St. Simon's Island, where the proposed hotel may be erected. Here John Wesley preached, and the oak under which he gave to the world so many of his powerful sermons still stands, a living monument to a glorious chapter in Georgia's religious history.

At Frederica, near the proposed site for the hotel, stands the ruins of Oglethorpe's fort, erected as a barrier against Spanish invasion, and nearby is Bloody Marsh, where the green salt water grass turned red with blood in a battle which turned the tide of the Spanish conquest in Georgia and preserved this state for the English colonists. A granite monument now marks the site of the battle.

Natural Grandeur.

Natural grandeur of the Brunswick resort section includes stately oaks covered with Spanish moss, tall palm trees, and scrub palms, Spanish bayonets, and other products of a generous Mother Nature designed to attract and hold the interest of visitors.

The proposed hotel will mean that visitors from all over Georgia and the rest of the United States may visit the Brunswick resort section and be sure of accommodations. There are numbers of cottages and bungalows scattered throughout St. Simon's and Long Islands, but since the old hotel burned several years ago, there has been a real need for a modern structure to house visitors to the islands, Mr. Butts said.

A number of capitalists have placed themselves behind the movement for the new hotel, feeling the general demand for such a building, and it is hoped that the hotel will soon be a reality, Mr. Butts declared.

missions here. Tilson can draw no pay until he is confirmed by the senate, so that if he is given a recess appointment and not confirmed at the next session he would have served his entire time on the Georgia bench without pay.

Senator Harris, who led the fight against Tilson, said today he would be very sorry to see him given a recess appointment.

Position of Harris.

"If the president sends Tilson's nomination to the senate next session it will not even be sent to committee," Harris said today. "There are 20 republicans who will vote with the democrats to reject it as soon as it is presented to the senate in executive session."

"The situation will be more against Tilson at the next session than this, as the new members come in, and it will be a virtual tie between democrats and republicans, with a chance that the democrats will have a majority, in view of the Vane and Smith contests. All the democrats will vote against Tilson and as I said 20 republicans will join with us."

"Republicans oppose the nomination on the legal grounds that he lived outside of the district. President Coolidge has violated the spirit of the constitution in sending his name back to the senate."

Tilson's term expires on March 4 since he was not confirmed by the senate and the president will have to issue another appointment to him after congress adjourns if he intends to retain him in the Georgia judgeship.

probably a junior college for training teachers for this mountain region. It also will establish a plan of extension work by conducting Sunday schools as well as day schools in outlying sections. The combination of the strong points of both schools will produce an all-round, harmonious and vigorous program of education for all this Blue Ridge section, leaders state.

Supporters of the two schools declare they are determined to secure the maximum benefit of Mr. Rockefeller's generous offer and three committees representing the two schools are already at work to raise the fund required before July 1. About $60,000 is yet to be secured.

The charter of the new institution as Rabun Gap-Nacoochee school is being secured in Rabun county. The corporation will be organized about March 1. Plans and layout of buildings are being prepared by architects and the contract for the first building will be let in the next few weeks.

pleaded 800 years before He was born," he declared. "Luke, Matthew, Peter—all the disciples, all the prophets, the Angel Gabriel, one of the thieves on the cross, God—all of them say 'No, Joseph was not the father of Jesus,' but the modernists say 'Yes.' Who are you going to believe?"

ion that friends and relative recognize each other in afterlife. Then he portrayed heaven as a beautiful land on the far shore of a cold river, closing by saying: "That's a nice picture, but oh boy—how we're going to get there is what gets me. I'm not afraid to die, understand that, but I wish I could go to heaven without visiting the undertaker! When you folks hear that I've gone out with the tide, you can just bet that old Bill put up an awful argument with the Almighty to let me stay just a little while longer."

The revivalist expressed gratitude to Atlanta for the welcome he and Mrs. Sunday received and closed with a prayer. Following the meeting, the evangelist was escorted to his suite in a local hotel and thence to the Terminal station, where the party took the 12:01 train for Jacksonville, Fla.

Governor-Elect Speaks.

Prior to the meeting, Dr. W. H. Houghton, pastor of the Baptist tabernacle, who has been at the bedside of a sick relative in Pennsylvania, sang several solos and conducted a collection for the Ravenna club poor children's fund. Governor-elect J. G. Hardman was introduced. He assured the audience that in conducting his high office, he will seek the guidance of God in all his actions. He was cordially received.

F. Spooner, former choir leader of the tabernacle, led the choir and the audience in a number of hymns. He made the trip to this city from Birmingham especially for the two Sunday meetings.

Charles Outlaw, in charge of the meetings, announced that Mr. Sunday's visit here was an overwhelming success and that it was not impossible that the famous revivalist may return here at a future date. "I am only sorry that our limited accommodations prevented the many hundreds of persons from hearing Dr. Sunday," he said. "The enthusiastic response of Atlanta demonstrated the timeliness of the reappearance of Mr. Sunday."

Attend the Southern Business College, Says Miss Myrtie Paire, Now With Big Atlanta Firm

Many Are Enrolling Now at the Southern to Be Ready For Work By Fall.

Atlanta is looking for the biggest business boom in her history the coming fall.

Realizing what the public is expecting, young people are daily enrolling at the Southern Shorthand & Business University, to be trained for commercial positions, in order to be ready by September for the fall's business.

While there is an ever-increasing demand for young men who can do stenographic work, because such few are learning shorthand, the demand for women with a knowledge of this fascinating art of rapid writing to occupy important positions in commerce, industry and finance is constantly growing.

Of all occupations open to young women, none is more attractive and offers greater opportunities for advancement than do commercial positions.

Miss Myrtie Paire saw fit to choose a business career, so she enrolled at the SOUTHERN for her training, and now she is out in the business world with one of its largest concerns. In a letter just received from Miss Paire, she states that she is proud that she attended the Southern.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 12, 1927.
Mr. L. W. Arnold, Southern Shorthand and Business University, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:

I take great pleasure in thanking you for the kind and personal attention given me while a pupil of your school. I am proud to say that I am a former pupil of yours, and feel that my time was well spent. Any young man or woman seeking a thorough business training should attend the Southern, which I think is the best Business College in Atlanta.

I am now employed by the Remington Typewriter Company, 68 Luckie Street, and am well pleased with my work. I was given an increase in salary within two months after I entered their employ.

MISS MYRTIE PAIRE,
With the Remington Typewriter Company After a Course in the S. S. & B. University.

Again thanking you and each of the teachers for the many favors shown me, I am,

Yours very truly,

MYRTIE PAIRE.

The continual erection and opening of mammoth department stores, hotels, office buildings, factories and the turning loose of EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS by the City of Atlanta, which will go into her citizens' pockets, all foretell the approach of a prosperity for our city unrivaled in the entire Southland.

Prepare now, and do so at "The Southern," the school that shows results.

Natural grandeur of the Brunswick resort section includes stately oaks covered with Spanish moss, tall palm trees, and scrub palms, Spanish bayonets, and other products of a generous Mother Nature designed to attract and hold the interest of visitors.

The proposed hotel will mean that visitors from all over Georgia and the rest of the United States may visit the Brunswick resort section and be sure of accommodations. There are numbers of cottages and bungalows scattered throughout St. Simon's and Long Islands, but since the old hotel burned several years ago, there has been a real need for a modern structure to house visitors to the islands, Mr. Butts said.

A number of capitalists have placed themselves behind the movement for the new hotel, feeling the general demand for such a building, and it is hoped that the hotel will soon be a reality, Mr. Butts declared.

COOLIDGE TO GIVE NEW RECESS TERM

nomination to that post recently was withdrawn by President Coolidge in the face of senate opposition. This action was predicted in a story in The Constitution last week.

This news came as a surprise to both Senators George and Harris as well as to Republican senate chiefs, who felt confident the president would name someone else to the judgeship. It had been generally understood when the president withdrew the nomination a few days ago just on the eve of consideration by the senate, that he would not give Tilson a recess appointment.

Tilson Brings Pressure

Republican House Floor Leader John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, the Georgian's brother, has brought pressure upon President Coolidge in behalf of his brother, it was learned today.

The president, it was said today, in explanation of his position, does not want to antagonize the Georgia senators but he has received reports that Tilson's service on the bench is well regarded by the people and lawyers of the new district, and that further service during the congressional recess would give further evidence that he is a capable judge and would enhance his position.

At the beginning of the next session, it was said further, the president will canvass the situation in the senate and if he finds the same opposition that the nomination has met heretofore, he will not send Tilson's name back to the senate but will give the Georgian another appointment, probably on some of the numerous coma favorable report on the work at Rabun Gap and also approved the plan of building the two schools and building at Rabun Gap one institution that will do work of a higher standard.

The appeal thus made to Mr. Rockefeller for his aid in rebuilding the two schools destroyed by fire and the good it would do this mountain region as a whole resulted in his making an offer five times as large as the one he had made to Rabun Gap alone.

One of the features in the Rabun Gap plan that appeals most strongly to Mr. Rockefeller and others who have investigated it is the plan of educating whole mountain families in rotating groups. Large families are brought to the 1,500-acre farm and given a five-year term of residence as tenant-pupils. They are taught how to farm, how to diversify, how to save, and thus to become economically independent. In the meantime, the children attend a nine months school. About 50 families have taken advantage of this plan since it was inaugurated.

The second feature on which Mr. Rockefeller's pledge is based is the plan of cooperation with the day school of the community. With the aid of the Rabun Gap school, an excellent school building has been constructed for the surrounding valley. The Rabun Gap corporation has an investment of $15,000 in this day school building as the basis of a plan of cooperation with the public school trustees of the local district and the county board of education. The school funds have been supplemented and the school term lengthened. People of the community have been encouraged to greater effort and the school is now supported in part by local taxation.

To Raise Standards.

Moving of the Nacoochee school to this community will bring higher standards of educational work and a greater operating income. It will establish a first class high school and doubtless with the consent of the president," he continued, "proceeded to Pennsylvania, publicly declared in favor of Pepper and actively engaged in the business of organizing his campaign. Together with his brothers and nephews, the Mellon family contributed $75,000, which is admitted, to the primary campaign alone, $1,504,000.

"At the same time, Vane, the opposing candidate, was gathering his sinews of war. The curious thing about the contributions was that well known as notorious grafters at elections were admitted to have given sums ranging from $50,000 to $75,000, and some of them refused to disclose the source of the money."

"Against Vane and his cohorts the Mellon forces pronounced anathema maranatha. They declared Vane unfit for the office of United States senator; that his methods were villainous and corrupt; that he was altogether bad. Yet the day after Vane's victory, these same forces rallied to his support. W. L. Mellon became the chairman of the committee to conduct Vane's campaign."

"The election was held, and William B. Wilson, except to the corporate limits of Philadelphia with a majority of 50,000. But the republican machine at Philadelphia did its work. It rolled up an apparent vote so great that Vane apparently was elected by a majority of approximately 200,000 votes."

"This spectacle has horrified this country. It has turned the stomach of decency and has seared the consciences of men as with a red hot iron."

"Yet we find that one of the chief actors in this iniquity was Mr. W. L. Mellon who not only sits serenely in the capital of the United States but almost from the white house steps declares to the country that the money contributed and used in Pennsylvania were as honestly contributed and as fairly expended as contributions to a church of Jesus Christ."

"So I say that the red line of corruption runs through the capital of the nation and crosses the white house grounds."

"Once the Praetorian guard murdered the just Pertinax upon the steps of the capitol, and standing in the welter of his blood sold Rome at auction. Are we approaching such a catastrophe?"

"There is but one force that can rescue our country from this quagmire

ATTACK FROM WITHIN.

"The time has come when the friend of Jesus Christ must speak out. Labor for years was assaulted from within its ranks and it finally solved the problem by throwing out the Bolsheviks. The church today is being assaulted within its ranks by individuals who glory in their shame, who wear their collars backwards and why try to take them instead of save. And when they reject the virgin birth of Jesus Christ, reject the death of Christ on the cross and His resurrection, then it's time the church gave up the gas and threw 'em out.'"

"I don't believe my grandparents were monkeys and my family tree wasn't located in a zoological garden! They say: 'Deer rubbed their heads together and grew horns—then why didn't horses? If friction creates horns, why haven't we horns on our feet? If we're descended from monkeys, why are there any left? If they had their way the chickens would give milk and the cows would lay eggs!'"

"One of the most disreputable thieves in all Rome hung upon the cross and turned to Jesus and said: 'Get that—if you are the Son of God.' And since he asked that 'if,' millions of lives have been wrecked—brilliant lives, Darwin, Ingersoll, Spencer, Paine, I wish I'd been there to punch that thief on the nose!"

"These modernists—Sunday laughed and the audience joined him. 'They say Joseph was the father of Jesus. I'd like to ask where, and by whom, in all the Bible does anyone say that Joseph was the father of Jesus? Luke, least of the disciples to be misled, refers in two chapters to the virgin birth of Christ and the miraculous birth of John the Baptist."

"If the modernist version is correct, then Christianity is founded upon a falsehood and fraud. They claim then that Mary was not a good woman—and I resent that insult! If modernists are correct, then let us tear down our churches, let us burn our Bibles, let us forget religion!"

Bruce Barton's book, "The Man Nobody Knows," received a verbal barrage from the speaker. "That source of modernist propaganda classes Lincoln's Gettysburg speech with the Lord's prayer. What an insult! But that book should show Christians how anti-Christian abuse is sweeping the land, how radicalism is decaying America! And if it is permitted to go on unchecked, it will ruin the country!"

"Stressing his belief in the Bible again, the revivalist stated his opinion

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

(Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.)

(In response to numerous requests, Mr. Work will write on Contract for the next few days instead of Auction Bridge. During that time, his daily Auction Bridge Pointer will be omitted, but will be resumed later.)

The statement at the conclusion of yesterday's article, that Contract has always been more popular on the Continent than in England, is explained by the character of the game which is more appealing to the Continental taste than the conservative English mind. It is a game which pleases that type of player who likes to play poker with the Three, Four, Five and Six taken out of the pack and with "Deuces wild."

To understand thoroughly the basic difference between Contract and Auction Bridge it is necessary to realize that in Contract partners are constantly overruling each other even when the adversary does not bid at all; for in Contract, to make a game it is necessary to bid for it. For example, a side that had scored two No Trumps in one hand could go out in the succeeding hand by bidding and making one No Trump or two of a suit; but with the score at love, a Declarer could not make game—even if he took every trick—unless his bid had been at least three No Trumps, four of a Major suit, or five of a Minor.

The same limitation is carried into the scoring of Slams. In Auction Bridge the bonuses for Little and Grand Slam (six and seven respectively) are counted when a side wins twelve or thirteen tricks, regardless of the amount of the bid; but in Contract a Slam is not counted except by a Declarer who has bid six or seven. And instead of the 50 and 100 bonuses allowed in Auction Bridge, much larger ones are awarded to the Contract player who makes the Slam for which he bids. In most Contract "counts" 500 is allowed for a Small Slam bid and made, and 1,000 for a Grand Slam bid and made; but even on this characteristic Contract feature the counts do not agree; in some places, bidding for Slams is not a part of the game and they are counted as in Auction Bridge.

Another article on Contract tomorrow.

$65,000 HOME IN HAYNES MANOR SOLD TO CANNON

Sale of an Italian residence, recently erected on Peachtree Battle avenue, in Haynes Manor, for a cash consideration of $65,000, was announced Tuesday by Eugene V. Haynes, owner and developer of Haynes Manor. H. R. Cannon, owner of the Henry Grady hotel, purchased the new home with plans for occupying it in the near future.

Situated on a lot measuring 200 by 350 feet, the house consists of two stories of concrete block and stucco construction. It is supplemented by a three-room servants' house and garage with space for three automobiles. Modern and classical Italian architectural developments are woven into the design of the Cannon home. Among the outstanding features are a tiled patio with central fountain, interior decoration of Tiffany wall combined with Italian lighting fixtures and a double driveway to the house encircling a large fountain.

Sun Life Official Sees Prosperous Year Ahead for Company

After one particularly successful year of business in Atlanta, J. T. Wilson, manager of the Sun Life Assurance company, of Montreal, Canada, declared that prospects for 1927 in the life insurance field were even more encouraging. The Atlanta office of the Canadian company was opened in January, 1926, and since that time has expanded, opening many sub-offices now in operation over the state, and many more planned in the near future.

"We have exceeded the quota set by our home office," Mr. Wilson said, "and prospects for the ensuing year are even brighter. We fully expect to double previous business records." The Sun Life company, which has operated in the United States for 30 years, has a total outstanding insurance of a billion and a quarter dollars. Included in this is $255,890,000 written in 1926, while $20,000,000 total surplus was earned by the company during the year and the rate on invested assets reaching 6.80 per cent, according to the annual report. For the seventh successive time an increase in the scale of profits to policyholders was announced.

EMORY GLEE CLUB RETURNS FROM TOUR

The Emory Glee club returned Tuesday, from a ten-day tour through Georgia and Florida, having covered more than a thousand miles, and appeared in eight performances. The tour included Macon, Milledgeville, Valdosta in Georgia; Orlando, Tampa, Tallahassee, and Gainesville, in Florida; and Tallahassee, in Florida; and Thomasville, Ga., Monday before their return to Atlanta.

The club is chiefly known by the realistic interpretation of the old negro spirituals. In Macon they sang in the municipal auditorium to more than 2,000 persons. The performance there was sponsored by Wesleyan College Glee club. They sang at the Tampa Bay Casino in Tampa, sponsored by Tampa Rotary club.

This is the first tour of the club for the year. According to Dr. Dewey, there have been many requests for a return to Europe during 1927, but plans have not yet been completed for the holidays.

TRIO OF BANKS PAY $30,000 DIVIDENDS

Three banks recently taken over by the state banking department paid a total of $30,000 in dividends to depositors Tuesday, it was announced by A. R. Mobley, superintendent of the department. The banks paid dividends of 10 per cent, and further dividends will be paid as the process of liquidation is finished.

The banks were the Bank of Cusseta, $9,881; Bank of Palmetto, $14,926; and Thomson City bank, $4,186. Dividends will be paid later by many other banks now in process of liquidation, it was announced. Since January 1, 1927, the closed banks have paid dividends to depositors aggregating $155,000.

9 JURORS CHOSEN IN SUDDETH TRIAL

Metter, Ga., February 15.—(AP)—At noon today nine jurors had been selected in the trial of Joseph Holloway, charged with the murder of Pat Suddeth and the shooting of Alex Larriessy. Holloway's first trial in the murder charge ended in a mistrial. Hundreds of spectators were called by the court to secure a jury. Because of the wide family connection of the defendant, the securing of a jury has been difficult. Court opened yesterday and only a few jurors were obtained after a day's work.

Holloway is the central figure in a shooting affray which occurred at the home of Mrs. William Davies near here last week. Suddeth was killed and Larriessy sustained injuries which finally led to his death. The latter died since Holloway was first tried. His evidence will be read in affidavit form by the prosecutor, Solicitor A. S. Bradley.

Mrs. Davies claims to be the slayer of Suddeth and with this she claims to have wounded Larriessy. She has never been tried, and has been held in jail since the killing, having been indicted for the same. She was shot only after the two men attempted to break into her home. Both were drinking, she said.

Atlanta To Call Merry Ol' London On Phone Today

Unless one happens to be an early riser, history may have been made in Atlanta this morning as the reader calls it a night's sleep and rolls out to earn his daily bread.

For at 7:30 o'clock this morning, when the Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, will have a telephone conversation with Colonel H. E. Shreeve, of the London office of the American Telephone company, if everything progresses as scheduled.

The call is timed, not for the purpose of disturbing President Read's slumber nor to interrupt Colonel Shreeve's mid-day luncheon, but to permit the epoch establishing event to be negotiated during the most advantageous period of the 24 hours.

The call is set for 7:30 here and is to be received at about noon in London—English time.

Thereafter, the service is open to the public at this rate: $75 for the first three minutes, $25 for each minute thereafter and a $10 report call in case the connection is not made.

HOWARD CANDLER TELLS ROTARIANS OF "FINE ARTS"

An illustrated lecture on "Fine Arts and Crafts" by Rotarian Howard Candler featured Tuesday's luncheon of Atlanta's Rotarians at the Capital City club.

Before Mr. Candler on the speakers' table were placed many objects of art collected by him from all over the world. Among them were ship models carved from ivory and bone, rare editions of books from fifteenth century presses, a ceremonial fan of ivory from ancient China, wine goblets of early Jacobine glass, a collection of portrait paintings and a Mohammedan prayer rug.

Special guests of the Rotary club were Woodmen of the World officers from Omaha, Neb., who are here to consider Atlanta as a possible location for national headquarters.

New members introduced to the club were H. K. Snyder, De Sales Harrison, Howard Schafer and John Colley. Robert S. Parker, president, presided, while Mr. Candler was in charge of the program.

HARDWICK DENIES HE WAS OFFERED U. S. JUDGESHIP

Sandersville, Ga., February 15.—(Special).—Denial of published reports that he has been offered the judgeship on the federal bench in the middle Georgia district, was made here today by Howard Hardwick, former governor, ex-senator and congressman, and prominent lawyer of the state.

Hardwick declared that although he has been offered the post on two former occasions and that he had declined both times, he had not been tendered the position again to succeed Judge Candler, who recently was denied confirmation by the United States senate.

CIVITAN PROGRAM FEATURES INCLUDE TRICKS BY BOEHM

Devoting their regular weekly luncheon to entertainment without any speech making, Atlanta Civitans heard a vocal concert under the leadership of Mrs. Gertrude L. Johnson and watched Julian Boehm, exponent of black arts, perform slight-of-hand tricks Tuesday at noon, at the Atlanta Athletic club.

The quartet, consisting of pupils of Mrs. Johnson, were accompanied at the piano by Miss Kate Blatterman, local music teacher. Mrs. Johnson also gave a piano solo.

In the absence of Graham West, president of the Civitans, Deward Colley, second vice president, presided, and named two new committees. Joel Hunter, Horace Russell and Dr. Earl Quillen, were appointed on the international program committee, while Palmer Blackburn was named chairman of the entertainment committee for March.

DRIVER OF AUTO, NOT OWNER, LIABLE IN DAMAGE CASE

The owner of an automobile who would be held liable for damages sought as compensation for injuries to persons or property caused by the car while being driven by the party renting it, according to a ruling handed down Tuesday by Judge G. H. Howard, in Fulton superior court.

Judge Howard dismissed a suit for damages against the Drive-It-Yourself company, brought by W. E. Reddingfield. The petition was filed against the rental company and George Lamond, driver of the automobile said to have caused the accident, for which damages were asked. The suit against Lamond was dismissed.

I had two raises for my partner and 1 bid 4-Hearts. Of course, the heart declaration made back of her king of that suit should have caused Z to revalue her hand, which at best could be valued at only five tricks, whereas she had already announced a stronger holding. But it was rubber game, and fond

Keep Valentine Day Alive By Protecting 'Her' Future

Valentine day has come and gone, but you'll still be wanting to carry your love to the motor trips.

If she's your sweetheart or your wife, the two of you will be riding on street cars or automobiles, and if you're married the kiddies probably will be along.

It's an excellent thing to send her a lacy bit of sentiment on Valentine day, but it's better still to think of her comfort and welfare all the time and to protect her and the children—and yourself, too—with insurance.

Cheapest and most efficient of all insurance is The Constitution's for you and all its readers between 15 and 65 years of age. It costs you $7.50 travel accident policy of the North American Accident Insurance company at only $1.25 per year.

In return for this insignificant sum—a fraction of a penny a day—you are assured of payments ranging downward from $7,500 for death resulting from certain specified mishaps; large cash sums for permanent injuries and $10 weekly indemnity for disability as an outgrowth of any of these accidents.

You may be killed or maimed today in a train wreck, a crash of autos, under the wheels of a speeding car. Don't take a chance with the welfare of your family. The Constitution has been paid on claims of Constitution policyholders.

Columbia Seminary Faculty Homes To Be Erected Soon

Construction work on homes for the president and six professors, comprising the faculty of Columbia Theological seminary at an aggregate cost of approximately $105,000, will begin soon, under action of the removal of the seminary from Harrodsburg, Ky., to Atlanta, Ga.

Following announcement that the Rev. Hunter B. Hakeley, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, of Harrodsburg, Ky., has been named professor of the seminary's department of New Testament literature and exegesis, by the board, Tuesday morning Dr. Hakeley prepared to leave for Harrodsburg Tuesday night to present the call and urge its acceptance by his congregation.

Should Mr. Hakeley accept the call, he will give a leave of absence of one year in which to further prepare himself to take over the chair formerly occupied by the late Dr. Henry C. Wright.

Homes Sites Selected.
Homes for the faculty will be built on the 15-acre tract in Decatur, given the Columbia Theological seminary by the state of the late G. Booker Scott, which also provides for location of Mission terrace on the tract.

Residences of the president and professors are to be constructed on what will be known as Faculty circle, three homes facing Oak street, two facing the park to be included in the campus and two facing a main road that runs through the campus.

An estimated value of $15,000 for each home was given. Edwards and Sayward, architects for the seminary, have been instructed to begin study plans for the homes immediately in order that the committee can have them completed for the opening of the seminary in September.

"Mission terrace will be of particular convenience to missionaries planning to pursue courses of study at the seminary during their leave of absence," Dr. Gillespie said. "As many missionaries have daughters enrolled at Agnes Scott college, Mission terrace will be of further advantage in bringing the parents and children together during furloughs."

Mrs. Bryan Praised.
"Mrs. Bryan, who has been directed by the board to handle the campaign for funds, is one of the foremost members of the Southern Presbyterian church. She illustrated her aptness for the duties placed upon her by successfully raising a fund of $30,000 last year for homes for missionaries in Africa. Her devotion to the work of Columbia Theological seminary was recently manifested by generous property gifts to the seminary in Columbia. The first objective of the campaign will be to erect an apartment house of four six-room units at an estimated cost of $40,000."

J. W. McCallie, contractor for this seminary structures, assured the board that the Virginia Orme Campbell administration building and the first students' dormitory, being constructed at an outlay of $300,000, will be completed by July 15. The faculty library and equipment of the seminary will be transferred from Columbia during August and everything made ready for the opening of the theological school here by September 14.

Members of the board of directors, Columbia Theological seminary attending meeting at Ansley hotel here Tuesday:

South Carolina: Rev. Alexander Spotswood, D.D., Charleston, S. C.; Dr. W. A. Hafner, Charleston, S. C.; Dr. W. Robinson, Esq., Columbia, S. C.; Dr. D. M. Douglas, D.D., Columbia, S. C.; Dr. L. L. Barr, Greenville, S. C.; Dr. J. W. McCallie, Esq., Charleston, S. C.; Rev. A. L. Patterson, D.D., Charleston, S. C.

Contract Bridge—The Newest Game

BY E. V. SHEPARD.

(From "Win at Bridge," Copyright 1927, by E. V. Shepard.)

visions of either winning the rubber or of saving it at small cost lured her into bidding 5-Diamonds. My partner doubled, then came the deluge.

My partner's hunger for three trump tricks caused him to lead his only club, hoping that I might hold the ace of that suit, or in case I lacked that honor, that when he won his first trump trick that he could put me in another lead, so as to be allowed to ruff clubs. I won the first trick, and gave him the buff. The fact that I had ventured to give him a raise of two tricks made him read me for the top spade, and he led back his fourth-best card of that suit. Instantly alone caused me to return a heart instead of again ruffing him, which would have saved the declarer one trick had I tried to ruff my partner, as then he would have been able to win two heart tricks, because the declarer could have discarded a heart on one of dummy's good spades.

With the first two tricks, with the two trump tricks which we won later, set the declaration five tricks, doubled, against a vulnerable pair, yielding us 1,800 points, with no honor to deduct. At auction we would have been awarded only 500 points, less 30 points for the simple honors held by the declaring side, a net total of only 470 points, a slightly more than one-fourth of what we made at Contract.

This important fact that a side may lose four times as much at Contract as at Auction, on the same hand and under the same conditions, is a serious thought. The trouble with Z was that she lacked sufficient knowledge of values and bidding to properly enter an Auction Bridge game. She was far more out of place in Contract Bridge, where few of even our best Auction players really shine, as yet. It is impossible to play good Contract until you know your Auction Bridge thoroughly. Then you have to study

ANTI-SMOKE LEAGUE URGES ABATEMENT

S. F. Reade, Frank A. Witt and Mrs. A. M. Swager, were principal speakers at a meeting of the Smoke Abatement league Monday night in the Chamber of Commerce building, at which plans for the annual observance of smoke abatement week, to be held during the latter part of February, were discussed.

Among the topics for discussion at the meeting, was the need for a new, more complete and modern city ordinance regulating the details of furnace installation and heating equipment.

Dr. L. H. White, of the federal public health service, will be invited to the city during smoke abatement week to speak at various civic and social meetings, it was announced.

The meeting was in charge of C. F. Dieter, president of the league.

TO EXPLAIN WORK OF CHARITIES BODY

Department heads of the Federation of Jewish charities will explain the regular monthly meeting of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, 6:30 o'clock tonight, at the Standard club, it was announced Tuesday by Joseph B. Wolf, president of the local order.

Among guests who will speak are Lee Hexster, superintendent of the Federation of Jewish charities; Miss Rose Goldstein, assistant; Miss Isabel Clarke, of the social welfare department, and Dr. J. E. Sommerfeld, chief of the clinic department.

DOZIER'S CONDITION REPORTED IMPROVED

Athens, Ga., February 15.—(AP)—The condition of James H. Dozier, state tax commissioner, who has been confined in a local hospital for several weeks suffering from complications which followed vaccination, was reported, somewhat improved today. Dozier's condition is still serious, however, attending physicians said.

REV. STAUFFER SPEAKS TO MASONS TODAY

The Rev. C. R. Stauffer, past chaplain of the Alexandria club, Washington, D. C., will be principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Atlanta Masonic club, 12:30 o'clock today, at the Henry Grady hotel.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Mrs. T. G. Fowler.

USURY CHARGED TO 6 ATLANTANS

Indictments charging usury, a misdemeanor, were returned Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury against W. B. and L. F. Lawrence, W. P. Harris, H. D. Harris, T. L. Harris and H. H. Harris, on charges of assessing alleged unlawful rates of interest on small loans.

The indictment which jointly names W. B. and L. F. Lawrence, sets out that on June 1 they made a loan of $13 to Pummey Simpson and charged him interest at the rate of $3 per month, violating state laws regarding interest charges.

E. P. H. D. T. L. and H. H. Harris were named jointly in a true bill which alleged that they loaned Pummey Simpson $6 and charged him interest at the rate of $1.50 per month on the loan.

No date for trial was set. Indictments were returned as the result of the campaign against "so-called loan sharks," inaugurated by the junior chamber of commerce and the Atlanta Legal Aid society, and it has been through the efforts of J. L. R. Boyd, general counsel of the society, that information in regard to alleged unscrupulous interests charged were unearthed and prosecution instigated, it is said.

With the return of indictments Tuesday the number of bills charging usury have reached approximately 100 and defendants are to face trial in Fulton superior court as early as possible.

STUDENT CONFERENCE CLOSURES AT ATHENS

The Georgia Student Volunteer conference for 1927, in a three day session at Athens, adjourned Sunday night after electing new officers. William Elmo Tabb, Colquitt, Ga., a recent graduate from Emory university in liberal arts and now a student in Candler school of theology at Emory, was chosen president for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected Sunday night were Elizabeth Greer, Agnes Scott college, Decatur, vice president, succeeding Miss Mary Heath, Agnes Scott college; Sarah McAdams, Agnes Scott, succeeds Miss Grace Taylor, Agnes Scott as secretary; Miss Claude Boggs, Wesleyan college, Macon, succeeds Miss Alice Harris, Wesleyan, Macon; Miss Fay Sessions, Georgia State college for women, Milledgeville, succeeds John Stroder, Emory university as editor; Grace Taylor, Georgia State college for women, Milledgeville, was elected council member to succeed James Thoroughman, Emory university, Miss Francis Gardner, Decatur, Ga., and Miss Mary Burns, Georgia State college for women, were re-elected as out-of-college secretary and educational secretary, respectively.

Billy Sunday, dynamic evangelist, who closed a two-night service in Atlanta at the Baptist Tabernacle Tuesday night, was guest-of-honor and principal speaker Tuesday at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Ansley hotel.

Mr. Sunday, in his characteristic style, delivered a stirring address, taking as his principal theme, "Honesty in Business." He referred to present-day business clubs as a power in community uplift and repeated his assertion that Atlanta is the most religious city on the North American continent.

Mr. Sunday, who was accompanied by Mrs. Sunday, was introduced to the club by Dr. Will H. Houghton, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle. Dr. Houghton announced that all free-will offerings collected at last night's service at the Baptist tabernacle are to go to the Home for the Friendless building fund, a charity sponsored by the Atlanta Kiwanis club.

John L. Westmoreland presided at the meeting and the program was in charge of J. M. Colbran.

REMEMBER 'MAINE' ON ANNIVERSARY OF HER SINKING

A patriotic mass meeting was held at Five Points Tuesday night under the auspices of the Fitzhugh Lee and Roosevelt camps, United Spanish-American War veterans, in commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the sinking of the battleship Maine, in Havana harbor.

The meeting was attended by representatives from many patriotic organizations throughout the city. A musical program was presented by the police band, following which military figures were executed at the auditorium by the Order of the Sepulchre, a fraternity composed of Spanish-American War veterans.

NEW ENTRANCE, DAM FOR PIEDMONT PARK

Construction of a new ornamental entrance to Piedmont park at the intersection of Piedmont avenue and the Prado was begun Tuesday, it was announced by L. L. Wallis, superintendent of parks and playgrounds.

He also stated that work on a 150-foot dam between the fishing lake and the swimming pool at Piedmont will be begun shortly. This will have the effect of establishing twin lakes and will permit draining of the swimming pool without disturbing the fish. The dam will be topped with a walkway.

Aquitania Berengaria Mauretania

"You should see these new suites on the Aquitania, Sir

"They're really extraordinary. Quite large and not at all the sort of thing the seasoned traveler has in mind when he speaks of a ship's stateroom.

"They're rather like charming guest rooms in delightful homes. In fact a few of the suites have Sun Rooms in which the walls have been treated to resemble stone, carrying out the country house idea, you know.

"Luxurious? I should rather say, sir, they have that touch of elegance that is so appropriate for our passengers.

"We are remodelling all our fast ships, making the rooms larger and more beautiful, and adding a number of private baths and showers.

"Any other improvements? The food, sir. That is now perfect. We have combed Europe for our chefs and they are experts. A la carte. On any of our fast ships you may ask the maitre d'hotel to prepare your favourite London, Paris, or New York dish, and be delighted with it. No—no extra charge.

"The service? As courteous and deft as always.

"Quite so, sir, that is one of the reasons the best people are found traveling Cunard."

PRESIDENT TELLS WOMEN TO SEEK AID OF CONGRESS

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Washington, February 15.—Congress, not the executive, holds the remedy for discrimination against women in this country, President Coolidge told a deputation of 50 women from the national women's party which called at the white house in search of presidential support of the pending equal rights amendment to the constitution.
The president, however, assured the women that he intends to continue to give appointments to women qualified to fill public office. He told his callers that he was much pleased with the manner in which women he had appointed to public office had functioned.

"The Judge's Husband"—William Hodge, who has endeavored himself to theatricalize in Atlanta, just as he has in all the large cities of the country, and who is now appearing at the Erlanger theater in the laugh-provoking satirical comedy, "The Judge's Husband," will bring his all-too-brief engagement to a close today with a matinee performance at 2:30, and a night performance at 8:30. Mr. Hodge, in this latest, and probably greatest, success from his own pen, plays the part of a keen-witted and quaint lawyer of a small town. The

"Wolf's Clothing"—A thorough portion of melodramatic comedy in the most pleasing form is dashed out to film guests of the Rialto theater this week in the form of the Warner picture, "Wolf's Clothing." Patsy Ruth Miller plays the star in this remarkable Warner Brothers picture. Ray DeLuth directed it. Another screamingly funny comedy is presented in "The Fighting Spirit," the sixth episode of "The Collegians."

Keith's Georgia.
Vaudeville and Pictures—There's a g a gathering of "hot" steps in the new Keith-Albee picture, "Keith's Georgia." Howard seems always to surround himself with boys and girls of ability. Coming to Erlanger.

"Muscle Box Revue"—The tide of Irving Berlin's amazing gift of melody never ran stronger than it does in the joyous, abundant, resourceful composition of the tunes to be heard in the fourth and last edition of his famous "Muscle Box Revue," which comes to the new Erlanger theater on next Monday, February 21, for an engagement of one week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The company approximates 100 entertainers, including a chorus of 60, all noted for their beauty and talent. The seat sale opens tomorrow, Thursday morning.

Forsyth.

"Going Crooked" (stock)—Tremendously enthusiastic audiences have greeted the showing at the Forsyth theater this week of John Golden's great comedy hit, "Going Crooked." This intensely human play, its purely American comedy, its wide range of humor, pathos and fealty, have made it one of the outstanding plays of Broadway and Chicago.

Rialto.

"Wolf's Clothing"—A thorough portion of melodramatic comedy in the most pleasing form is dashed out to film guests of the Rialto theater this week in the form of the Warner picture, "Wolf's Clothing." Patsy Ruth Miller plays the star in this remarkable Warner Brothers picture. Ray DeLuth directed it. Another screamingly funny comedy is presented in "The Fighting Spirit," the sixth episode of "The Collegians."

Keith's Georgia.

The Season's Biggest Event
"The Auction Block" combining comedy, drama, thrills and romance, is featured at the Palace theater today only. The story is a satire on social customs of the present day and it tempers great truths with a laugh or two. An excellent cast gives permanence to the entire film. The term of all-star, "The Auction Block" is one of the best pictures offered at the Palace this year.

AIR'S ASSOCIATION MEETS HERE TODAY

The Association of Georgia Fair will open a two-day meeting here at 1 o'clock this morning at the Kimball house, with an address by its president, H. C. Smith, of Columbus. Mayor I. N. Ragsdale will deliver an address of welcome, to which L. M. Rossignol, of Macon, second vice president, will respond.

The purpose of the association, and of the annual meetings, is to bring about improvements of fairs in the state through exchange of ideas, to increase the value of fairs to the community, and to determine better methods of management.

Among speakers Wednesday afternoon are C. B. McCullar, of Milledgeville; Walter Harrison, of Milledgeville; H. C. Smith, of Columbus; H. E. Woodruff, of Barnesville; F. H. Schomberg, of Columbus; Oscar Mills, of Atlanta, and J. L. Holmes, of Carrollton.

Speakers at the Thursday morning session, to open at 10 o'clock, will be H. M. McWhorter, of Madison; J. A. Nichols, of Rome; S. D. Truitt, of Sparta; Miss Louise Dowdle, of Athens; Steven N. Harris, of Savannah, and G. S. Chapman, of Sandersville.

Officers of the association are: H. C. Smith, president; Berner Snuckley, of Savannah, vice president; L. M. Rossignol, of Macon, second vice president; E. Ross Jordan, of Macon, secretary-treasurer.

CARELESSNESS TOPIC OF SAFETY COUNCIL

"Is Atlanta Getting More Careless?" will be the topic for discussion at a meeting of the Atlanta Safety Council today at 12:30 o'clock at the Ansley hotel, it was announced.

The discussion will be open to everyone interested in safety.

Late Subscribers Still Send Gifts For Scout Fund

An American Legion emblem over the entrance to one of the "huts" at the Bert Adams Boy Scout camp, will give evidence of the appreciation of the scouts for the support given by the legion in the campaign just successfully closed for $75,000 to complete the camp.

The Atlanta post, No. 1, of the American Legion, commanded by Major Asa Warren Candler, appropriated $300 to the camp fund, the amount each of the camp huts will cost, and supplied a number of active workers in the campaign.

The original goal of $75,000 may be over-subscribed by a substantial amount as a result of subscriptions which were still coming through the mails to scout headquarters Tuesday, it was reported by Eugene Harrington, president of the scout council. A total of $75,230 was reported at the victory dinner Monday night. More than $200 additional was received through the mails Tuesday. All money secured can be used to excellent advantage in increasing the capacity of the camp, Mr. Harrington said.

Begin Work At Once.

Work is to be initiated this week on the waterworks and sewage system at the camp to have everything in readiness for formal opening about June 1, when all workers in the recent campaign will be guests of honor.

Large subscriptions disclosed in the audit Tuesday and which had not been announced previously, included: $500 each from the Solomon Norcross company, of which the late Paul Norcross, co-owner of Bert Adams, had been president; Ben S. Read, W. R. C. Smith, Lee M. Jordan, and Louis H. Beck; $300 each from the American Legion, Atlanta post No. 1, Oakland City Boy Scout troop, raised through Boise S. Bomar; Fort McPherson Boy Scout troop, raised through Colonel Baltzell and Chaplain Hall. Additional subscriptions of $250 each were reported from J. J. Goodrum, Jr., W. C. Bradley, of Columbus; Gordon W. Burnett, C. J. Kampfer, Jr., William F. Fisch.

Subscriptions of $200 each were reported from Samuel C. Dobbs, and Wachendorf brothers.

Other Large Gifts.

Subscriptions of $125 each were reported from Dr. Cecil Stockard, L. F. Montgomery, Henry Grady hotel.

The Atlanta Real Estate board's subscription of $150 was reported, and others in the same amount from Henry C. Nelson, and Parks-Chambers-Hardwick company.

Other subscriptions of $100 not reported previously, included: William J. Davis, Robert W. Woodruff, Phoenix Planning mills, J. E. Skaggs, Ben T. Conyers, Sanders McDaniel, Mrs. Mary L. Hurt, J. C. Doherty, W. M. Orey, Clark Howell, Jr., Vaughan Nixon, Frank G. Lake, H. T. Adams, Joel Hunter, W. B. McBurney, George W. C. Harty, J. C. Doherty, Charles Nunnally, George W. Junior Leaguers
Waitresses Today
In New Tea Room

It's a far cry from being hostess at smart afternoon teas to "dealing 'em off the arm"—at so much per deal—but, be that as it may, this morning at 11:30 o'clock, some 15 daughters of the most prominent families in Atlanta will effect that transformation and each will blossom forth as a genuine victualler.

While there will be scarcely any course hellowing of "graveyard stew; have it hot!" or "two in the water, soft!" nevertheless, the 15 elite waitresses of victuals will solicit orders, transmit them to the source of supply and hasten the finished viands to the expectant consumer.

How come? It's simple, debutantes and debutantes—that were, of the Atlanta Junior league, are opening a novel tea room in the new Medical Arts building today, for the purpose of providing funds with which to carry on charitable projects in this city.

And that's not half of it. Patrons of the tea room are going to be served morsels as ate morsels and speeded. Each day from 11:30 to 2:30 o'clock the finest kind of meal will be available, vegetable plates at 50 cents—which is top price, waffles, syrup and coffee, at 25 cents and other combinations at equally popular quotations.

The tea room itself provides atmosphere to encourage almost any appetite. Decorated as a house in Provence, a picturesque brick fireplace dominates the room, while cooking utensils and parcels of provender dangle therefrom. Logs glow from the spacious base.

French pottery will be used, in keeping with the antique yellow and blue tables, while flowered chintz at the windows and cushions embracing pottery and pewter lend color to the setting. Wall vases of ivy and tapestries complete the picture.

The tea room idea was originated by Mrs. Eugene Black, Jr., president of the league; Mrs. Lida Nash, who directed the decorating, and Mrs. Lott Warren, adviser. Mrs. James Danton will act as director.

At the opening today a filet mignon luncheon will be served for 75 cents. Thereafter, as previously stated, maximum prices will be 50 cents for luncheon.

SALVATION ARMY
OFFICERS GUESTS AT CHAMBER LUNCH

Officials and executives of the Salvation Army, southern territorial headquarters, will be honor guests at a luncheon by the service committee of the chamber of commerce Friday at 12:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce.

Among the speakers will be P. S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company; Governor Clifford Walker, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and George West, president of the chamber. Henderson Hallman, chairman of the service committee, will be in charge of the meeting.

Ex-Policeman Bush
Given $200 Fine
In Shooting Case

Calvin Bush, former city policeman, was found guilty Tuesday afternoon by a jury in Judge Virlyn B. Moore's division of Fulton superior court, of shooting at another and upon recommendation by the jury that the case be treated as a misdemeanor, was fined $200 or given the alternative of serving 12 months on the chain-gang.

Bush was indicted on January 25, by a Fulton county grand jury, on a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of Ben Hill, a negro, in a garage on Central avenue. According to testimony Bush commanded the negro to dance and when he failed to do so Bush fired a fusillade of shots into the floor at the negro's feet, one of the bullets taking effect. The shooting occurred on Christmas night.

Assistant Solicitor Ed A. Stephens prosecuted the case for the state.

PERSONNEL WORKERS
TO HEAR WEISIGER

The Personnel Association of Atlanta will meet Friday night at 6 o'clock on the third floor of the Peacock cafe. Kendall Weisiger will speak on "The Psychology of Handling Men." This is the third in a series of talks on psychology in industry. The speaker is known as an authority on personnel matters and his subjects are one that commands keen interest of leaders in business and industry.

Missionary Safe Whatever Chinese Outcome, Is View

"Whether the war lords of the south, the north or central China eventually win in the struggle for supremacy in the political unification of China, the missionary has nothing to fear; he has proved himself a valuable friend to all sections," asserts Dr. S. H. Wainwright, secretary of the Christian Literary society in Tokyo for the last 30 years. Dr. Wainwright was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Newell, of Clifton road, during the first of the week.

"Chinese money, the English language and the hymn, 'Onward Christian Soldiers,' are the only universal things in China today," he continued. He warned that America must watch the wealth of the China of the future, declaring Chinese labor to be the greatest hidden wealth producing potentiality now existing and that the Chinaman, by his manner of living and customs, can offer competition that other nations cannot meet.

The visitor compared the throes of unification that China is now undergoing, to the same period of transformation in Japan 20 years ago, and prophesied the same ultimate result. He approved England's current policy toward China and denounced the Russian method of filling China, as well as other countries, with insidious propaganda. Prefacing his remarks, he stated that "whatever statement you make about China must be hedged by one exception after another. It is a vast country with the problem of uniting peoples of different dialects, people who today are antagonistic, do solve it, in my opinion, China must follow a principle of federation of states. One section must predominate to accomplish this unity."

Postoffice Burns.

The postoffice building at Hoboken, Ga., burned Monday night, according to a wire received Tuesday by Joe Johnston, postoffice inspector in charge. The wire said that the stamp stock was in the safe, but that efforts to open the safe had been unavailing.

MICHIGAN PROBES CHARGES CONVICTS WERE TORTURED

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Lansing, Mich., February 15.—Charges that prison inmates employed at the state-owned cement plant at Chelsea were tortured, was the subject of a double inquiry today. Both Governor Fred W. Green and former Governor Alex K. Groesbeck, who recommended the purchase of the plant by the state, started separate investigations.

It is the contention of the former administration the charges were brought in an effort to discredit the state industry.

Claims that prisoners were tortured by having their hands handcuffed above their heads for days at a time, were given drugs to knock them out and they were otherwise manhandled were contained in a report submitted to the legislature by the attorney general's office.

The allegation: were based upon affidavits from three prisoners. One asserted he was "strung up" eight hours a day for 25 days and was given only four meals in that time. Another claimed he went eight days without a meal, while one hand was handcuffed above his head and the other below his knees.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

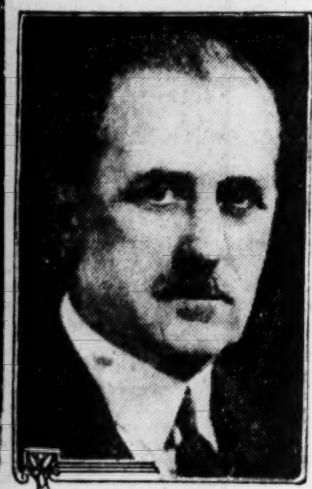

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S. For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years—that nothing would heal but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S.S.S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicine but I think S.S.S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main St., Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The large size is more economical.—(adv.)

Studebaker's 75th Birthday Announcement

Sweeping Price Reductions

The Commander, Studebaker's
Big Six Brougham, reduced
$200

Today—February 16, 1927—Studebaker celebrates its seventy-fifth birthday with price reductions which reflect the aggressive spirit of this Company.

Studebaker has lived and grown for seventy-five years because of its consistent policy of keeping ahead of the procession.

Studebaker Custom Cars, introduced recently, exemplify this policy. They have been the most widely imitated cars ever produced. In less than six months no less than a dozen manufacturers have introduced what they call "custom models"... but a custom name doesn't make a custom car! As Studebaker leads in design, so does it also lead in value. The new prices quoted below represent a supreme triumph of One-Profit manufacture.

New Prices, Studebaker Cars

'Monkey' Tourney Starts at Ansley Park Today

52 Women Expected To Enter

BY TOM THOMPSON.

Today is the day that the women of the Atlanta Women's Golf association will take part in all this evolution argument.

For today is the day that 52 or more women, if all of them are expected enter, tee off at Ansley Park at 9 o'clock for their first and Atlanta's first "monkey tournament." Tee off is used in a figurative sense.

Disbans are expected to be scarce in the homes of 52—or less, since some of the entrants are Misses—Atlanta women. Said disbans will be brandished and banged vociferously along with other noise-making devices, for the chief purpose of the tournament is to see which side can make the most noise while the other is attempting to make the least shots.

Will Pick Teams.
Mrs. Clarence Bradley and Mrs. Helen Dargan Lowndes will pick their teams on the grounds. If all of those expected enter the affair there will be 26 women on each team, quite a healthy golf team, you must admit. In fact, under the rotation plan to be employed, the problem arises as to how each member will be provided with a separate type of club, since even the weightiest of golf bags scarcely carry 26 different pill bangers.

However, rest assured that some relief from this depressing circumstance will be found, even if two members of each team have to be provided with the same type of club.
Two warm spring rains have shone on the Ansley park course since the tough rains of last week-end, and the layout should be comparatively dry. A bit of casual water here and there may be to be surmounted, but by 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, should the sun rise and get to its duties bright and early, the greens will be fairly dry from the night's deposit of dew and will be pretty fast.
Tommy Wilson, pro and general manager of things golf at Ansley park, is expecting quite a gathering and a load of fun for everyone and for that reason has been broadcasting invitations to disinterested spectators with a lavish hand. No doubt a generous amount of his invitations will be accepted.

Nurses Defeat St. Mark's Quint

Emory Nurses defeated St. Mark's, 25 to 22, in one of the closest games ever played on the Epworth court at Wesley Memorial.
Miss Morrison and Miss Darden, of the Nurses, led the scoring for their side, each getting a total of 12 and 11 points, respectively.
Miss Bush of the St. Mark's team, was high scorer for the losers, getting a total of 10 points.
The game was extremely fast and hard fought, with the close guarding of both sides featuring the encounter.

THREE KAYOES FEATURE CARD AT FORT MAC

A proposed 30-round fight card was staged at Fort McPherson Tuesday night, but only 20 rounds were produced for the customers. However, a whale of a gory time was had by all, with the exclusion of several of the principals who are still wondering what mule smacked them.

The feature bout of the card, programmed to travel six rounds, found a piano and pallet fight in the initial stanza. Avera, Company B, was up-right and Starnes, Headquarters company, was prone ere the gong ended their first round. The men fought as heavies. Starnes began with plenty speed and apparent ability but accidentally connected with a stiff one coming out and his lights waned.
Hubbs of Company B, established a colorful reputation as a one punch pugilist in the semi-windup, routed over the four-round way. This was one of those scraps that wind up about 15 seconds after the opening gong. In this particular instance Hubbs first fist snatched Sams, Headquarters Brigade, so smartly that that worthy flopped and lay quivering like a bowl of jelly suffering from St. Vitus. He eventually regained consciousness.
Of the remaining five four-round

Florrid Out

Dick Florrid, star moundsman of the jacket baseball outfit, will not be eligible for baseball at Tech this spring, he told a representative of The Constitution Tuesday.
However, Dick is in steady attendance at night school and in this manner, coupled with his work at Tech next fall, he will become eligible to perform with the jackets in the spring of 1928, and remain within the bounds of the rules prescribed by the conference.

scrap, two traveled the full distance to a draw, two to a decision and one ended in the second round with a technical kayo.
Billy West, Atlanta, unmasked an aspiring masked marvel as Pete Hurley, Atlanta, by taking a four-round decision. Hurley was to have worn his mask until defeated but as things turned out he might as well have discarded the idea on conception.
Young Carter, Atlanta, fought Jess Smith, Company D, four rounds to a decision. Wimley, medical corps, gained a four round decision over Sustare, Headquarters company. De-centro, Headquarters company, got a technical kayo over Sutton, Fort Mac, in the second frame of their four round bout.
Thompson, of Company H, and Vinson, address same, mixed it four rounds to a stalemate.
Cowboy Kid won another battle royal in the burnt orange opening melee.

ATLANTA OPENS SEASON IN NASHVILLE APRIL 12

New Orleans, February 15.—(AP)—Following a two-day session behind closed doors, officials of the Southern association announced this afternoon that the playing schedule for 1927 had been completed, but that it would not be announced until February 27.

The opening games will be played on April 12 and will find New Orleans at Mobile, Birmingham at Chattanooga, Atlanta at Nashville and Memphis at Little Rock. The season will close September 18, and 154 games have been scheduled.
The Cracker-Vol games will open the new park at Nashville. No deals have been forthcoming at the meeting so far, but it was expected from conversations in progress that Louis "Dutch" Leggett, New Orleans diamond star, and now a student at the Tennessee Medical college, would be given a tryout with Atlanta this year. Leggett plays both infield and outfield positions.

J. P. C. Basketeers Out To Even Count Tonight

The two Bean coached aggregations, the Atlanta Athletic club and the Jewish Progressive club, met in a contest at the Jewish Progressive club tonight at 8:30 o'clock for the second time of the 1927 cage season. Performing in their own domain the J's will seek vengeance for the defeat meted them at the Athletic club January 12, at which time the A's took the honors in a 41-33 contest.
As are all games between these two Joe Bean basketeers, it will be a bitterly-contested affair. The A's are suffering from what appears to be a slump in their one-time highly efficient attack. The fact that Pat Stephens, Brewer and Bennett are shooting strange baskets will not be any too great in their favor, since in the last exhibition the first mentioned gentleman had considerable trouble finding the loop on his own court.
However, there is one thing that can be banked on. And that is that Rufus Bass and Jimmy Latimer will put up one of the best guarding exhibitions that the J's have been allowed to witness at home this season. This, of course, being on the contingency that these two are in top form.

Crippled Backs.
The backs on the J. outfit are slightly crippled, Seigel not yet having returned to the lineup from a badly injured knee sustained several weeks ago. Whether he will be in trim for the battle tonight is not known. However, he is not expected back in the lineup. Finckelstein, stellar forward on the J. outfit of former years has been performing at a guard post, keeping company with Rosenberg, for several games. He will probably be at this post again tonight.
The game tonight is the first of a two-day major basketball carnival for Atlanta fans, since Tech, suffering soufully from two conference beatings last week, will tangle with the Oglethorpe Petrels at the Atlanta Athletic club Thursday night.
Coach Mundorf is issuing a light cage diet to his charges tonight. This is occasioned by his belief that the Tech cagers are suffering from a dose of staleness. The staleness is blamed for their showing, or lack of it, on the two-defeat road trip. Right now Roy is putting them on a sloughed workout each day, working them back into the best of trim in time for the conference tournament.

Sandlot Tourney Set for Saturday

At a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the office of Sam Saltzman, it was decided that the second Sandlot tournament would be started on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the auditorium, Taft Hall.

The following games will be played: Tech H. Terrors vs. Leaders, 1 o'clock; Grant Park vs. Northside Ramblers, 12 o'clock; Hurricanes vs. Adair, 10 o'clock; Northside Panthers vs. Atwood A. C., 2 o'clock; Pace Makers vs. Whirlwind, 11 o'clock; Kirkwood, bye.

Walter Hagen Wins In Mobile Match

Mobile, Ala., February 15.—(P)—Walter Hagen, paired with C. P. McIntosh, pro at the Mobile Country club, today defeated R. C. Oakie and R. L. Crawford, two Mobile amateurs, in an 18-hole best ball match 3 up and 2 to go. Hagen had a card of 74, three above par. Hagen stopped in Mobile for the exhibition en route to Florida where he will begin his match with Gene Sarazen.

Browning Proud Father of Eleven Day Old Heir

Any idea that wrestlers are bereft of all human qualities is all wrong. Jim Browning, father of an 11-day-old son is one of the proudest fathers encountered in some time. The truth of the matter is that Jim is so proud that for once he is on the verge of departing from telling the truth.

"That boy of mine can take hold of your fingers and pull his head and shoulders up off the bed," Browning declared Tuesday and from the enthusiastic manner in which he told it one almost believed it. However, it is not customary for 11-day-old boys to pull such stunts.
After all Browning may be telling the truth. The baby, which was born on February 4 at Browning's home in the city auditorium in the toughest match ever staged here, Browning has seen the addition to his family but once, but declares that he will hasten home immediately after his match with Joe Stecher here Thursday night.

POLICY LOOP ENDS SEASON IN DEADLOCK

BY C. C. MITCHELL.
The Insurance league closed its season with three games at the Atlanta Athletic club Tuesday night. Firemen's Fund and the Insurance Company of North America both rounded out their schedules with well earned victories and are deadlocked for the championship. The playoff for the title will probably take place next Tuesday night. The North America quintet eliminated the Southeastern Hartford writers in the first game, 33 to 29, and the Firemen's Fund trimmed Hartford, 29 to 16. Commercial Union closed its season with a 26 to 20 victory over Royal.
The game between Southeastern and North America was a tossup all the way, although Singleton and company were on top the entire distance. Scoring was rather slow at first and it was several minutes before Mathis finally located the basket for the initial tally. Singleton made it three with a free toss and then Boyle came back for the Underwriters to make the score 3-2. Rubenstein then came through with his only ringer of the game to make it five. From then on North America moved slowly ahead and was on top, 17 to 12, at the half.

In the second period, Southeastern rallied to tie it up at 17 all but then Singleton got his eye on the basket and North America was on top to stay. The game was a scoring duel between Autrey, Boyle and Smith for the losers and Singleton and Mathes for North America with Singleton having the edge.
After being held to a 12 to 10 score in the first half, Firemen's Fund ran wild in the final period to down Hartford, 29 to 16. The first half was a see-saw affair with first one team and then the other in the lead. Firemen's Fund finally took the lead just before the end of the first period. After the intermission, McDonald, of Firemen's Fund, who had been giving more or less of a mediocre performance, began shooting with regularity. Breaking down on the basket from all angles he soon turned the game into a walkaway, while the close guarding of Newborn and Chesnut held down the Hartford forwards. Smith and Mathes also looked good for the winners. Swinford and Wilson were the only Hartford lads who could locate the basket with any degree of accuracy.

Petrel Cagers Beat Florida Five, 41-28

BY ALTON REDFEARN.
The Oglethorpe Petrel basketball team, displaying better form than in any game this season, won its fourth college game of the year on the home court Tuesday night, vanquishing the fighting Florida 'Gators' by the score, 41 to 28.

The feature of the game was the brilliant passing attack put up by the Petrels. Several times during the contest, Massey, Bass, Sheridan and Chestnut passed to another mate when practically in as good a position to shoot as his teammate. This, perhaps, was the reason for such a big score, the biggest piled up by the Petrels in any one game this season.
After the first four minutes of play, Florida, after leading the Oglethorpeans, settled down apparently to a defensive game. In this part of the play they were far superior to the Petrels. But, as result, the 'Gators' were woefully weak when it came to floor work and the invaluable passing attack.

Red Smith Stars.
However, in the person of "Red" Smith, the 'Gators' have an excellent basketball performer. Florida's first four points came as a result of two beautiful long shots by Smith. He was high point man for the 'Gators', annexing 12 points, 10 of which were from the field; also, it has been many a day since such an expert dribbler has performed in the university gym.
Despite the huge difference in the scores, the game was very exciting, and at many times during the contest, it was close. On the whole, it was an unusually clean game. Many fouls were called, but they were unavoidable, as they usually are, but more so because of the smallness of the playing floor.

Since it was the first real game played in by the Petrels, with the possible exception of Oglethorpe-Presbyterian game, it will not suffice without giving them their due praise. As individuals, they deserve but little, as a combination, they were unquenchable. However, "Shimmie" Sheridan, brilliant in his work last year, but who has been off form all season, played an excellent game, improving over his past performances by 50 per cent. He shot 14 points, 12 of which were from the field.
The Lineup and Summary.

Tech High Takes First Game in City Title Series

Smithies Trounce Commercial Quint In 27-20 Contest

Typists' Futile Attack Centers Around Balser—Hammond and White Main Cogs in Tech's Scoring Machine.

BY BEN COTHRAN.

Tech High increased its clamor for the city prep basketball title Tuesday afternoon by winning a hard-fought tilt from the Commercial High quint, 27 to 20, on the Athletic club court.

This game was the first of a three-game series, and the second game will be played Thursday afternoon, at 8:30 o'clock at the Athletic club.

Commercial's attack was centered on one man, Balser. Balser would remain in the center of the court, and when the ball came into Commercial's possession, it would be passed to him, and he would take a long shot at the basket, with the other members following it up.

The Smithies relied on their passing attack, and with Hammond and White doing most of the shooting, managed to keep a few points in the lead. At the half way mark, Commercial was leading by one point, 15 to 14.

At the first of the second period, Tech High dropped in a field goal, to grab a one-point lead. Commercial retaliated with a foul shot. Things rocked along for a while, both teams fighting hard for the lead. Tech High shot another field goal, and Commercial came back with its only two-point shot of this half.

After this the Smithies began picking up and their score mounted steadily. The Typists made good two free throws and their scoring was through for the day.

The game became rough on several occasions, and a total of 24 fouls were called, one of them a technical. Only one man, Balser, was ejected from the game for four fouls. This loss affected the Typists materially, and in the remaining few minutes of play Tech High had everything its own way.

White, Smithies forward, was high scorer for the affair, getting five field goals, and three charity chunks for a total of 13 points. He was an important cog in the Gold team's attack, and made most of his shots good.

Pap Terrell, star of the Tech High-Boys' High game, was off in his shooting, but his floor work was good. He shot four points. Heavy Hammond was also missing shots quite frequently, and garnered only six points instead of his usual large number.

Part of this lack of scoring ability of the two big guns was due to the close guarding of Abie Hirsch, the Typists' standing guard. He played a good game under the backboard, and was consistent in feeding the ball to Balser.

Joe Chandler and Joe Stearns, the Smithies guards, played their usual good game, and Chandler was getting shots off the Commercial backboard regularly, which gummed the Commercial's goal shooting offense.

The Smithies' field goals totaled 11, and they made five out of 12 free throws count for points. The Typists were able to get only six field goals.

LACROSSE MEN AT TECH HOLD 1ST PRACTICE

BY JULIAN SAKS.

The Tech lacrosse men Tuesday afternoon donned their uniforms, took up their sticks and appeared on Grant field for the first practice of the year. Dr. Crenshaw, director of athletics at Georgia Tech and coach of the lacrosse team, will again put a strong team on the field. Last year both the varsity and freshmen teams won the conference crown in that sport. Many of the old stars will be back and with the added experience the team should be able to function better than ever before.

Games have already been arranged with the University of Georgia and Fort Benning, and negotiations are under way for a game with Syracuse university on Grant field. Should the Tech team win the local follow-up of lacrosse ought to get a great many of the lacrosse fans to the game as Syracuse has had the outstanding lacrosse team in the east for several years.

It has been but two years since Dr. Crenshaw organized the first lacrosse team at Tech, and, incidentally, the first in any college in the far south. But during these two years lacrosse has made a great headway and gained much popularity. There was an exhibition match between Georgia and Tech during the half of the Tech-Valdosta game which was received enthusiastically by the spectators.

There are a large number of candidates from whom the team this year will be picked and consequently there will be quite a scramble for regular berths. The men who have returned from last year's varsity and freshmen teams are: Riley, Pelletier, Von Weller, Cook, Govan, Lewter, Trammell, Trowbridge, Dickinson, Jones, Ware, Thrash, Ash, Westbrook, Irwin, Sheppard, Wham, McDaniel, Schwartz, Spring, Roeknell, Hood, Haggard, Wilder and Walker.

All-Star Cagers Play Jackson Hill

The Epworth All-Stars face a hard game Saturday night at Wesley Memorial court when they meet the Jackson Hills Baptist quint.

The All-Stars have yet to suffer a defeat while the Baptist team has not been defeated for the past three years. The All-Stars have been going strong this season, but the game Saturday night will be one of their hardest on the 1927 schedule.

Coch Barker, who also manages the team, is working his boys hard every night, getting them in shape for the game.

Here are the G. M. A. cadets inspecting their new bus in which the College Park quint will travel to Auburn, Ala., to defend their title in the cotton states tournament, which gets under way this week. The members of the squad are, reading from left to right, front row, Manager Snyder; Sullivan, guard; Sorrell, guard; Broadfield, center; Shappard, forward; Hafer, forward; Suddeth, center; H. Phillips, forward; Campbell, guard; Captain G. A. Morrow, coach. Back row, Howard, forward, and Landes, forward.

Cadets Have Won Tournament for Past Two Seasons at Auburn.

Two large tourist busses, leaving Atlanta Wednesday afternoon will carry the basketball team of the Georgia Military Academy to Auburn, Ala., where they will defend its Cotton States championship, won last year at the tournament annually sponsored by the Auburn Athletic association.

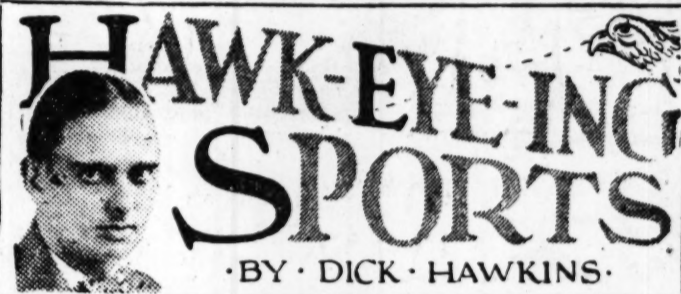

Harry Snyder, manager, and 12 players will make the trip, according to Coach Morrow, Mott and Phillips, forwards; Broadfield, center, and Sorrell and Rastus Smith, guards, will probably start the first game. Others taking the trip are Payne and Landes, forwards; Suddeth and Sheppard, forwards; and Howard, Sullivan and Campbell, guard.

G. M. A. teams have a habit of bringing home the honor from the Cotton States tournament. In 1925 and again last year G. M. A. teams won the championship, eliminating the 15 other entries. In 1924 and 1925 they were finalists losing the last game only. Such a record for four years that the Cotton States tournament has been held has given the Cadets much prestige in the south.

Sixteen leading high school teams of Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee are included in the entry list this year. They are: Vienna High, Vienna, Ga.; Georgia Military academy, Atlanta; Castle Heights, Lebanon, Tenn.; Darlington, Rome; Tallapoosa High, Dadeville, Ala.; Springville High, Springville, Ala.; DeKalb County High, Port Payne, Ala.; Dalton High, Dalton, Ga.; Malone High, Malone, Fla.; Montezuma High, Montezuma, Ga.; Montgomery Bell, Nashville, Tenn.; Lanett High, Lanett, Ala.; Columbia academy, Columbia, Tenn.; Red Level High, Red Level, Ala.; Anniston High, Anniston, Ala.; and Millport High, Millport, Ala.

Mansfield Wins.

Mansfield, Ga., February 15.—Mansfield defeated Covington basketball team 17 to 15 Monday night, the game being played on the Oxford court. Features of the game were the all-around good playing of both teams and the special work of James Prosser of Mansfield.

Smith-Strib Match Off.

Burt Miller, matchmaker who has been the more or less proud parent of three boxing cards in Atlanta since 1927 came around, has signified an intention to bolster the game in this city despite the fact that many are of the opinion that such bolstering is impossible. And Mr. Miller has taken an important step toward this end by voluntarily signifying his intention to call off the Homer Smith-Young Stribling match scheduled here for February 22.

Burt entered the office today with an air of mingled resignation and determination on his face and announced in so many words that after careful study of the situation he had come to the conclusion that Smith would not be a good match for Stribling and that he would not put on any man whom he could not conscientiously say would offer an interesting match.

Such an announcement met with our unequivocal approval for the reason that we have stated in this column and many times by word of mouth that Smith is a "has-been" of the worst sort and that such a match would not only provide a first-class fiasco, but would redound to the ultimate detriment of the game itself.

It is only fair to say that we are informed by the commission that they had taken no action on the matter prior to the time Burt made his appearance at our office, and that the action of the matchmaker was purely voluntary.

The action was doubly laudatory in view of the fact that it may be necessary for Miller to call off the card on the 22nd unless he can secure a suitable opponent for W. L. by that time. He is now trying to secure that sort of an opponent and judging from the direction of the lines he has out the substitute match will be of much more interest than the original promised to be.

According to all the dope we could gather on Homer Smith augmented by our memory of him as seen in action in Michigan some years ago—the proposed Stribling-Smith battle would have been either detrimental to Stribling or would have been a mar on the game.

If Stribling is anything like as good as he is believed by many to be he would push over the former Michigan lad in a couple of rounds, which would make the battle a "push-over," and if he carried Smith the limit it would reflect on his ability as well as upon the box-fight amusement itself.

Burt has taken a good step. If he will continue to be as careful about his matches as he promises to be about this one, and if the commission pursues its avowed intention of investigating all fighters before they are allowed to perform here, there may still be a "fountain of youth" stunt for the fight game in Atlanta.

SUNDAY RECALLS WHEN BALL : BOOZERS? MAYBE; BUT NO SLOUGHED CONTESTS : PLAYERS PLAYED BASEBALL

BY HERB MCUSKER.

"Are Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth greater ball players than the old timers? I'm too tired to laugh that off tonight." Billy Sunday, famous in the '90s as one of the fastest outfielders in the old National league, the man who on two occasions scored from first base on singles before Ty Cobb had discarded knee pants for peg-tops, and who for the past 30 years has been slapping Old Nick's slants for plenty bases in the Brimstone circuit, paused Tuesday night and focused his gaze into the distant past.

"Comparing present-day players with those of my day is about as futile as trying to compare your hair with a wagon wheel," he said. "Remember this—things were different then. Imagine Babe Ruth—or even your own Cobb—clonking the ball over the lot if the pitchers were permitted to move 15 feet closer to the plate."

"Your batter today is 60 feet and six inches from the pitcher—he has time to take a swing. When I was up there, the pitcher was 45 feet and speed was used on every pitch."

"Babe Ruth is a hard-hitting brother. I won't deny that. But if he had seen old Pop Anson in his prime, the Babe would toss his club over the fence and go to work. He might have held a job but he wouldn't have been an idol as he is now."

Morals? Sunday hesitated over that one. "If two of the fellows used to drink—conditions were different. But let me tell you something, brother—the boys might have lingered over their drinks of nights but if anyone had even mentioned such a thing as a 'sloUGHed' game, he'd have stopped a pair of knuckles before he got to the period."

"Why, in those days, it was almost a miracle if two of the opposing teams didn't toss a few fists at one another while changing positions—that's how much they thought of every game. It didn't matter a whoop where the team stood in the league standing, every game was a battle from start to finish."

"I'll never forget one game when I was playing for the old Detroit team of the National league. We were playing in Pittsburgh and we had 'em licked 9 to 0 with two men out in the ninth inning. We were all set to run for what passed as a clubhouse, when old Dan Brorthers came to bat. There was a fighter! Dan looks over a couple of pitches and then straightens one out. When I had run it into the ground, Dan was

COLUMBUS PLAYS B. H. S. CAGERS HERE

While Tech High and Commercial are battling it out for the city title, Boys' High, one of the hardest obstacles that Tech High faces in class A, is hard at work preparing for a game with Columbus High school, to be played at Grady court Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

The Columbus team is not new to Atlanta prep fives. Boys' High and Tech High have encountered the Blue Devils on their own court down in Columbus. The Devils journeyed to Atlanta recently and nosed out a one-point victory over the G. M. A. cadets.

Boys' High is preparing to give its visitors a hard tussle when they arrive Saturday. Columbus is one of the teams not entered in the G. I. A. A., but will be a strong foe for the Purple.

Fans Give Browning Excellent Chance To Beat Stecher

Kansas Grappler Is Believed Most Likely Contender That Has Faced Stecher in Local Ring—Fuzzy Woodruff Takes Over Grappling Controls.

Jim Browning, Kansas grappler, is given a wide edge to wrest the heavyweight wrestling crown from the brow of Joe Stecher in their title match here Thursday night than any other opponent that has met Stecher in an Atlanta ring, according to rabid wrestling fans.

Although John Contos has sold his wrestling promoting rights to Fuzzy Woodruff, newspaperman and ex-member of the Atlanta boxing commission, he will not quit Atlanta immediately. Contos, according to announcement by Promoter Fuzzy Woodruff, has been retained as wrestling match-maker for the remainder of the current season, at least. The wrestling season will close in May.

Woodruff's purchase of Contos' rights places him in control of the wrestling match at the city auditorium Thursday night. That program was arranged by Contos before he sold out, and among other things calls for Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight wrestling champion defending his title against the onslaughts of one Jim Browning, who is both well known and liked in these parts.

Good Warmers. In addition to the championship bout the program offers two one-hour preliminary matches. In one of them Paul Jones, something of a local favorite, will meet John Paxos, who also has appeared here numerous times and who enjoys quite a bit of popularity with the Atlanta fans.

Wladek Zbyszko, one of the strongest wrestlers in the game, who chooses to regard himself as one of the logical contenders for the mat championship that he once held for a brief time, grapples with Carl Vafel, of St. Louis. Vafel, tipping the scales at 218 pounds, is capable of putting up a rousing good scrap.

Woodruff, who retired from the boxing commission January 1 of this year, acquired control of wrestling Tuesday. He gave out a brief statement as follows:

"I have acquired control of wrestling in Atlanta, but for the time being I will retain John Contos as my matchmaker. I want the public to know that I have utmost confidence both in Contos' ability and honesty. He will remain with me through the current season, at least."

"I am planning to continue offering the type of high class bouts that Contos has given the Atlanta fans. In addition I am contemplating certain innovations and the fans may rest assured that I will continue to bring the best wrestlers in the country here, so long as the patronage of the shows warrants my doing that."

Tech Rats Battle Typist Five Today

Wednesday afternoon in the Tech gym Coach Bill Fincher's so far undefeated Tech Rat team will meet the strong Commercial High team. The junior Jackets have played 14 games to date and have won all. Only two more games stand between them and a perfect season, these being the games with Commercial High and one with the Georgia freshmen, Saturday night. This will be the first meeting with the Commercial High cagers but the second with the Bullpups for the Jackets. In the first encounter the junior Jackets carried off the victory in a close and hard fought game by a 38-36 score and will wind up the season with an attempt to make it two straight over the boys from Athens.

BREAKING THE RECORD

This record, too, is unmatched!

Each season sees some cigarette rise to new fame or sink into obscurity. But there's one—and we know of no other—that can claim this unbroken 20-year record: Each year since 1906, Piedmont has ranked among the five best sellers—unquestioned proof of its fine mellow flavor and the goodness of its straight Virginia tobacco.

Note. With the sole exception of our celebrated Richmond Straight Cut, Piedmont is the only "Virginia tobacco" cigarette enjoying a national sale.

Take the "tacks" out of the road!

Remove the blockade on the broad highway to Growth and Prosperity. These "coffin nails" have been strewn in the path of the good old reliable "Local Business" car by "Bell Ringers." They are a menace to local prosperity.

As long as you buy "Bell Ringer" merchandise, as long as you patronize these knights of the sample case, as long as you help to send thousands of dollars annually out of this community, you are blocking the road to Prosperity for yourself and everyone else in this community. The community depends upon the individual, the individual depends upon the community. You want a "Million-Dollar Skyline" in your home town, and you can help have it.

Last year nearly ONE BILLION DOLLARS — $900,000,000 to be correct—was taken out of circulation in American cities and towns and sent away to out-of-town houses through their representatives, the doorbell ringers. In YOUR COMMUNITY this amount was reflected in hundreds of thousands of dollars. There's no doubt about this at all. If you are skeptical ask the post-office authorities to tell you about the mountains of "Bell Ringer" merchandise received here annually. Ask them to tell you about the sacks of money orders sent out in one year to outside houses.

Every day an army of peddlers is turned loose upon this city. They pester the housewives to the verge of distraction. They annoy business men by their intrusion. They hand out a line of high-pressure sales talk and they GET ORDERS BY THE THOUSANDS. Much of the merchandise they sell is of inferior quality. Most all of it could be duplicated by your local stores for less or at least for as low a price.

Don't you see how your failure to support your local institutions, how your patronage of the "Bell Ringers" works to the detriment of the community and therefore to YOUR detriment? Of course you can see it. A ten-year-old schoolboy can understand it.

Thousands of men and women in this city have already seen the light, have already joined the "Buy-at-Home" club. But other thousands remain to be converted before we shall have a 100 per cent loyal and prosperous community. Get aboard the band wagon right now. Next time a peddler calls on you tell him politely that you patronize your home town stores. He can have no logical argument in answer to that statement. He knows that your mind is made up, your decision is made—that "lets him out."

PLEASE REMEMBER:

This campaign is in no way directed against legitimate business houses and branch stores of national concerns, which, because of the nature of their merchandise, find it convenient or necessary to demonstrate from door to door. Such reliable stores are entitled to your patronage. It is with the fly-by-night, irresponsible peddler for out-of-town concerns that this series of articles has to deal.

Remember your local stores are among the finest in the land. Everything you can possibly need is displayed in your stores at fair and reasonable prices. Your home merchants are ready and willing to give you satisfactory and courteous service the year round. They spend their money in paying rent, taxes, salaries, and for the advancement of the civic welfare.

It not only is your duty, but also is the part of wisdom to spend your money in your home town. Why not do it?

Schumann-Heink Concert To Attract Many Music Lovers

The wonderful voice and artistry of Madam Schumann-Heink will be enjoyed for the farewell tour in concert Wednesday at the auditorium, nominal charges arranged so that thousands of music lovers can hear the world's greatest contralto.

Her public appearances began when she was 15, and when quite a young woman she became a star in the Metropolitan cast in New York, and sang one of her greatest roles in this organization during the past season in opera.

The sweet voice which thrilled Europe a half-century ago, that America first heard with De Reszke, Emma, Nordica, Plancon and Bisham more than a score of years ago; the same voice that cheered the soldiers during the war, echoing around the entire globe, will be heard once more under the local direction of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Madam Schumann-Heink's voice possesses the same richness and exquisite quality of tone which has always charmed her audiences, and those attending Wednesday evening's concert will be rewarded by the best of this great singer. The horseshoe of boxes will be filled with beautiful women wearing gowns glittering in sequin and crystal embroidery, while the members of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra association, the organization sponsoring the appearance of Madam Schumann-Heink, will attend the concert in full force.

Among those who will entertain at the parties Wednesday evening are former Governor and Mrs. John M. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spratt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gouglon, Mr. and Mrs. Harold French, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nevin, Mr. and Mrs. Enrico Leide, Miss Helen Knox Spain, Lawrence Powell Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Elsas, Mr. B. Z. Phillips, Mrs. W. B. Pritchard, Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adenison, of Cedarburg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens, in war mothers' boxes will be Mesdames Frank Allen, Allen Burdette, Beverly DuBois, E. P. Yancey, Frank Gaughey, Scott Warren, Jr., Mrs. Beck, W. F. Melton, Oscar Elsas, Mrs. L. E. W. D. Hoffman, Stanley Pore, J. C. Mellichamp, L. P. Rosser, Frank Bray, S. G. Gilbreath.

The last hour was devoted to the Bible lesson conducted by Miss Alice C. C. in which he stated that the boys' school at Plumtree had been almost destroyed by fire. A motion was made and unanimously carried that the circle should adopt another boy and place him at Plumtree to be educated. The circle will then be sponsoring the education of two boys, a city boy and a mountain boy.

Suggestions for the new officers were made by means of the secret ballot box and the report of the nominating committee will be heard at the next meeting.

Drama League Honors Miss Hanson And Mr. Hodge

One of the loveliest courtesies extended to Miss Gladys Hanson, formerly of Atlanta, and William Hodge, noted actor, co-stars in "The Judge's Husband," playing at the Erlanger theater the first half of this week, was the tea given by the Atlanta Drama League Tuesday afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's club.

The palm room of the Atlanta Woman's club had a decoration of early spring blossoms. The tea tables were beautifully arranged and presided over by Mrs. Lindsey Hopkins and Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr.

Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown, president of the drama league, was the official hostess and was assisted in receiving by the officers and board of managers of the organization. The officers are Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Mrs. J. E. Sommerfield, Mrs. John R. Hornady, Mrs. Marvin Perry, Cyril B. Smith. More than a hundred guests were present, including the honor guests, distinguished visitors to the city and members and friends of the drama league.

Miss Hanson, who has made an enviable record on the stage, is the daughter of Peyton Snook, of this city, and has been received with cordial greetings by her friends during her engagement here. She possesses a charming personality.

William Hodge, who plays the leading role in "The Judge's Husband," is America's inimitable star and this is his first appearance in Atlanta since his great success in "The Man vs.

The Save-and-Want Way

—Rich's Household Club Plan is in line with the best thinking-for-homes that is being done today.

—Once the home-maker of moderate income bought a single piece of furniture once or twice a year. This was the Save-and-Want plan. It was the old best way. The flaw was its slowness. The children of the household passed their most susceptible years growing accustomed to bareness or to mismatching.

—Rich's Household Club Plan is the newer, better Have-and-Save way. Easy deferred payments without carrying charges entail no money loss. Moreover, they promote the harmony of furnishings—harmony—without which there is no beauty.

"America" Will Be Presented At Children's Matinee Feb. 19

Patriotic interest will center Saturday, February 19, in the George Washington celebration at children's matinee at the Howard theater, when patriotic societies and history teachers will witness the film masterpiece, "America," which will be featured for the children.

Mrs. Frank McCormack, better films president; Mrs. Newton C. Wing, matinee chairman; Mrs. John G. Courtney, chaplain, and Mrs. John W. Lloyd, representing the P. T. A. council, Mrs. Tebo has charge of the special guest tickets to patriotic organizations, the P. T. A. membership and to the sixth grade teachers. A personal letter is being sent by Miss Mary Postell, while Superintendent Willis A. Sutton has expressed his approval through a letter sent to the three Atlanta newspapers. The splendid picture is one of the most interesting in the history of the motion picture industry. It shows the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Paul Revere's ride, the Boston tea party, Valley Forge, the revolutionary exploits in the south, and every other scene so dear to American patriotism.

Forming a stage setting at the opening of the picture, are to be the 44 children of the American Revolution of the Dolly Madison society bearing the American flag, and led by Mrs. John Sage, state director, and Mrs. Thomas Mell, president.

In the boxes will be seated Mrs. Howard McCall, Mrs. Charles L. Loring, regent Habersham chapter D. A. R. and her officers; Mrs. Lucius McConnell, regent Atlanta chapter D. A. R. and her officers.

The officers of John Floyd chapter, United Daughters of 1812, headed by their honorary state president, Miss Nina Hornaday; the state president, Mrs. Charles Rice, and the vice president, Mrs. Elijah Lewis Connally, will also occupy a large box.

Invited also are members of the Atlanta chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, Members of these organizations, P. T. A. members and sixth grade and other history teachers are urged to see that all school children view this splendid picture, which starts at 9:30 o'clock. Matinee prices are 10 cents for juniors and 25 for adults.

Mrs. Reed Honored
At Luncheon.

Mrs. Frederick Leslie Reed, of Gloversville, N. Y., who is visiting Mrs. L. W. Carnary, was honor guest at the luncheon given by Mrs. Alan Whitaker at her home on Tenth street.

Covers were laid for six guests, and the lace-covered table was adorned in the center by a bowl filled with jonquils.

Monday Mrs. A. F. Hallman entertained at a luncheon at the Atlanta club in compliment to Mrs. Reed. Covers were laid for Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Carnary, Mrs. Hallman and Mrs. Carl Dodd.

Mrs. Black's Birthday
Honored by Party.

One of the most beautiful affairs of the past week was the annual party given by Mrs. Lamar Rucker, of Athens, and Mrs. John McDougal, of Atlanta, in memory of their mother's birthday. The party was given at the kindergarten bearing the name of the beloved founder of kindergartens in Atlanta, Mrs. Nellie Phelps Black.

The building was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the children having made white chains, with red hearts and arrows on them and the lights were shaded with valentine shades. The large birthday cake bearing four candles spelled "Love." Miss Ethel Massengale, kindergarten director for the public school, was one of the guests of honor. After a short demonstration by the children, several former patrons of the kindergarten gave a most entertaining program.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sims and Mr. E. K. Frye gave several beautiful duets and Mr. and Mrs. Jay S. Baxter, noted for their tuneful rendition of radio program on the piano and xylophone, honored those present with several selections.

The tables were decorated with red and white. At each place was a special valentine for each child. A number of mothers assisted in receiving the guests and entertaining. Mrs. Julius Alexander, member of the Free Kindergarten association, never forgets the child; and on this occasion, although she could not be present, she sent her usual love gift of candy.

Miss O'Keefe Nelson was prevented from being present. Mrs. Nelson, a member of the board of education from the sixth ward, has always been one of the staunch supporters of kindergarten.

Miss Ethel Massengale, Miss Eloise Boylston, art director for primary grades; Mrs. McDougal, Mrs. Frances Black, Miss Margaret Block, Mrs. Zode Smith, Mrs. Suddruth, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. R. W. Spier, Mrs. Vernon Shearer, Mrs. Charles Langley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Baxter, Mrs. George Sims, Mrs. F. K. Frye, Miss May Randall, Mrs. Freeman, Miss Mary Geitenger, of New York; Mrs. Lorinda were special guests and a large percentage of the mothers with children in kindergarten were present.

Miss Bricker Weds Signor Hevia At Ceremony in Mexico City

The marriage of Miss Ellean Bricker, daughter of the Rev. Dr. L. O. Bricker, of this city, and George H. Garcia Hevia, of Mexico City, Mexico, was brilliantly solemnized Wednesday evening, February 9 at 8:30 o'clock in the private chapel of the groom's father in Mexico City, following an ancient custom of that country.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Bricker, and robed in her wedding costume of white chiffon she made a picture of stately loveliness. The gown was exquisitely embroidered in pearls and she wore a bridal veil of tulle and point lace, confided to her hair with sprays of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of delicately tinted orchids. The quoniam, with its beautiful stained glass windows, was elegantly but simply decorated with ascension lilies.

Following the marriage service, bride and groom were tendered elaborate supper party at the Mexico City club. A-riads of ascension lilies and smilax decorated the handsome club and the beautifully pointed tables where supper was served. Mrs. Bricker, the bride's mother, wore a magnificent costume of black chiffon velvet beaded in rhinestones.

Following supper the bridegroom left for a wedding journey to Havana, Cuba. They will be at home after March 15 at the groom's ancestral home, Hacienda de Atapalco at Oriental, Teubla, Mexico.

Near-Phillips Wedding
Cards Are Issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Langlois have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Arcadia Dowd, to Frank Smithson Phillips Saturday, February 26, at high noon, in St. Mark's Methodist church, Atlanta.

Story Telling Hours To Begin Friday, February 19

The course of story-telling hours offered by the Atlanta children's association, begins Friday afternoon, February 18, at 3 o'clock, at the Museum of Art, 1032 Peachtree street. These classes are entirely free to the children of Atlanta and no reservations have been made.

Mrs. Charles Goodman is in charge of the lectures and will give the story of the Bible, early Egyptian art, men, symbols of the saints and corals these subjects with the art of early Christian art. The stories will be handled in simple language and illustrated with pictures and souvenirs of the Holy Land, which Mrs. Goodman visited recently. All children are welcome to these lectures, which will last only one hour.

One of the most beautiful affairs of the past week was the annual party given by Mrs. Lamar Rucker, of Athens, and Mrs. John McDougal, of Atlanta, in memory of their mother's birthday. The party was given at the kindergarten bearing the name of the beloved founder of kindergartens in Atlanta, Mrs. Nellie Phelps Black.

The building was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the children having made white chains, with red hearts and arrows on them and the lights were shaded with valentine shades. The large birthday cake bearing four candles spelled "Love." Miss Ethel Massengale, kindergarten director for the public school, was one of the guests of honor. After a short demonstration by the children, several former patrons of the kindergarten gave a most entertaining program.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sims and Mr. E. K. Frye gave several beautiful duets and Mr. and Mrs. Jay S. Baxter, noted for their tuneful rendition of radio program on the piano and xylophone, honored those present with several selections.

The tables were decorated with red and white. At each place was a special valentine for each child. A number of mothers assisted in receiving the guests and entertaining. Mrs. Julius Alexander, member of the Free Kindergarten association, never forgets the child; and on this occasion, although she could not be present, she sent her usual love gift of candy.

Miss O'Keefe Nelson was prevented from being present. Mrs. Nelson, a member of the board of education from the sixth ward, has always been one of the staunch supporters of kindergarten.

Miss Ethel Massengale, Miss Eloise Boylston, art director for primary grades; Mrs. McDougal, Mrs. Frances Black, Miss Margaret Block, Mrs. Zode Smith, Mrs. Suddruth, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. R. W. Spier, Mrs. Vernon Shearer, Mrs. Charles Langley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Baxter, Mrs. George Sims, Mrs. F. K. Frye, Miss May Randall, Mrs. Freeman, Miss Mary Geitenger, of New York; Mrs. Lorinda were special guests and a large percentage of the mothers with children in kindergarten were present.

Mrs. Kate W. Jolly, the teacher for years at this kindergarten, has been

DIPLOMATS NAMED TO FOREIGN POSTS

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—President Coolidge further disclosed today his increasing dependence upon trained diplomats in the foreign service when the white house announced selection of three new American ministers, all of long service in the state department. They are:

Leland Harrison, now an assistant secretary of state, to be minister at Stockholm; J. Butler Wright, also an assistant secretary of state, to be minister at Budapest; Hugh R. Wilson, now chief of the division of current information, state department, to be minister at Bern.

These selections brought to a total of 15 the career diplomatic appointments President Coolidge has made as compared to 10 political ones. His proportion of career appointments far exceeds that of any president.

The desire of Theodore Brentano, of Chicago, now American minister to Hungary, to retire from active service because of age was disclosed with the selection of Assistant Secretary Wright to succeed him.

Mr. Harrison has been intimately connected during the Paris peace conference with all matters relating to debt funding agreements, German reparations and similar international questions. At Stockholm he will succeed Robert Wood Bliss, who has been transferred to Buenos Aires.

Mr. Wright also has had wide diplomatic training and was a member of the technical group at the Washington arms conference, while Mr. Wilson has served as counselor of embassy in Peking, Tokyo, Berlin and Paris. He will succeed at Bern 12th St. Gibson, who is being transferred to Brussels.

DR. RANKIN TELLS OF DUKE'S FUNDS FOR HOSPITAL AID

Columbia, February 15.—(AP)—With a $30,000,000 endowment from the late James B. Duke, the Duke foundation will soon have an income of $1,500,000 a year to be expended for hospital work in North Carolina and South Carolina.

Dr. W. S. Rankin, medical director of the foundation, told the South Carolina legislature today. That amount will provide free hospital treatment for 100,000 persons annually, with the cooperation of the cities and counties of the two states, he said.

This state, Dr. Rankin informed the lawmakers, ranks 48th, or last in the union, in the number of hospital beds per 1,000 of population, while North Carolina ranks 40th.

The real object of the Duke bequest, he explained, was not so much to provide hospitals as to develop an efficient rural medical service. Physicians will not locate for practice where there are no hospital facilities available, he declared, and it was recognition of this principle that caused the tobacco magnate to set aside the larger portion of his $40,000,000 bequest for increasing the hospital facilities of the two Carolinas.

Boy of 19 Takes Peacemaker Role In Fight, Slain

Folkston, Ga., February 15.—(Special)—Claude Prescott, 19-year-old Folkston boy, lost his life here late Monday night in a futile effort to play the peacemaker in an altercation between two other white men and a negro, Ross Young, into which Prescott was drawn by friends seeking to end the difficulty.

In the fight that followed Prescott was beaten over the head and then shot in the face with a load of bird shot at close range. He died within a few minutes. The negro, who is alleged to have fired the fatal shot, made his escape. Posses have been organized and are scouring the country for him. Citizens of this town fear that if he is caught mob action will follow.

Prescott is survived by his wife, to whom he had been married only a few months.

INSULT QUERIES WHO WILL PAY FARE TO CAPITAL

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, February 15.—"Who will pay my car fare?" This was the question asked today by Samuel Insull, utility magnate, when he was served with a subpoena to appear before the United States senate next Monday for further questioning in connection with the use of money in the Illinois primary election. Mr. Insull was told by J. Mark Trice, deputy sergeant at arms of the senate that Uncle Sam would treat him to the train ride.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and Daniel J. Schuyler, attorney for Mr. Insull, also were served with subpoenas. Mr. Crowe said he would pay his own expenses to Washington.

Insull, Crowe and Schuyler refused to answer certain question put to them last summer by Senator James Reed concerning cash funds used in the primary campaign for senator. Each maintained the questions involved expenditures for candidates to local offices and these were no concern of the United States senate investigators.

Giant Negro Faces Four Human Skulls

Michigan City, Ind., February 15.—(AP)—An array of four human skulls and a blood-matted strand of blonde hair today failed to confound James Coyner, the giant negro serving a sentence in the state prison here for grave robbery, when questioned by Michigan authorities regarding the four women's skulls and braided hair found in his trunk at Ferndale, Mich., where he formerly resided.

The grave robber only grinned when shown the four skulls, but leaped to his feet and shrieked "take it away," when the blood-stained hair was laid before him. He then took refuge in the surly silence with which he has baffled the efforts of officers to obtain information from him.

After concluding their questioning, Clyde D. Underwood, prosecuting attorney of Oakland county, Michigan, and George W. Smith, chief of police, said they would continue their investigation despite Coyner's refusal to implicate himself in connection with the skulls. They said he had given them enough information to believe him guilty of more than mere grave robbery and returned to Ferndale to follow up fresh leads in the mystery.

DEERING FORTUNE IS LEFT TO WIDOW AND 3 CHILDREN

Miami, Fla., February 15.—(AP)—The bulk of the estate of Charles Deering, retired manufacturer, who died in his home near here February 5, will go to the widow and his three children, it was revealed in the will which was filed for probate here today. The value of the estate is estimated at between $25,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Beneficiaries of the major portion of the estate include the widow, Marion W. Deering; a son, Roger Deering of Chicago, now in Texas; a daughter, Mrs. Marion D. McCormick, wife of Chauncey McCormick of Chicago, vice president of the Miami Corporation, and Mrs. Barbara D. Danielson, wife of R. E. Danielson, publisher of Gorton, Mass., a daughter.

STANTON'S MEMORY WILL BE HONORED BY WRITERS' CLUB

Honor to the memory of the late Frank L. Stanton, poet laureate of Georgia, will be paid on a special memorial program given by the Atlanta Writers' club, at 7 o'clock Thursday night, in the banquet hall of the Atlanta Woman's club, according to Mrs. James A. Watson, corresponding secretary.

Well-known writers and musicians are scheduled to appear on the program. Among them are Dr. W. P. Melton and Fuzzy Woodruff, as speakers; Betty B. Lewis, in recitation, and Mrs. J. B. McNeely and James de la Fuente, in musical presentations.

DOCTORS URGED BY STAFF CHIEF TO BAN GOSSIP

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, Ill., February 15.—Dr. George H. Follansbee, chief of staff of St. Alex's hospital, Cleveland, is to address before the annual congress of the American Medical association, made an addition to the list of "don'ts" for doctors. It was: "Thou shalt not gossip."

Dr. Follansbee said forbearance from chatty comment on his patients' ills and private affairs and on the doings of the latter's family and friends is best inculcated in the young doctor while he is an interne at a hospital. The physician's responsibility toward his patients makes him a silent repository of their intimate affairs, the speaker declared, and he should recognize the "sacredness of privileged communications."

Young doctors should also learn to be charitable toward fellow members of the profession, Dr. Follansbee declared.

CALIFORNIA TOWN HIT BY TORNADO

Bakersfield, Calif., February 15.—(AP)—A tornado, striking Taft this afternoon following a deluge of rain, ripped roofs off buildings and numerous homes on the west side. Losses have not yet been estimated but the terrific blast of wind ripped the roofs from the Hippodrome theater, Security Trust building and numerous dwellings, and crashed to earth half the radio aerials in the town as well as billboards.

No deaths were reported, but several persons were injured. A. A. Crobie was hurt when wind plucked the roof off his fight arena.

OFFICE BUILDINGS SHAKEN BY QUAKE

San Francisco, February 15.—(AP)—A slight earthquake was felt in San Francisco office buildings at 3:55 p. m. today.

CREDIT FOR COTTON WILL BE STUDIED

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—A comprehensive study to determine the amounts and kinds of credit available for cotton and other crops in southern states has been started by the department of agriculture.

David L. Wickens and Arthur N. Moore, of the department, have left Washington to establish the groundwork for the study in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Oklahoma. The survey will be extended later to other states.

Forty thousand questionnaires have been sent to farmers requesting a confidential accounting of their 1926 financial and credit programs and 4,500 of these have been returned and are being tabulated.

The announced objectives of the study are to determine the credit requirements for sound and practical production programs; the ability of existing credit agencies to finance such programs where reasonable security is available; and the extent to which farmers are in position to enjoy ample security for the credit necessary to enable them to adjust their farming operations to a more profitable basis.

Intensive studies of the credit requirements of individual farmers are to be made in selected areas considered typical of larger districts, everywhere, as far as possible, to determine the needs of farmers, stock raisers, cotton merchants, fertilizer and implement dealers being interviewed.

USE OF THE BIBLE BISHOP'S CRUSADE TOPIC WEDNESDAY

"Use of the Bible" will be the subject of the afternoon and evening meetings of the bishops' crusade at St. Luke's church today, with the Right Rev. Warren L. Rodgers, coadjutor of Ohio, conducting the mass meeting at 8 o'clock, while the Rev. Robert E. Gibson, rector of Christ church, Charlottesville, Va., will lead the women's conference at 3 o'clock. A supper meeting for the rectors of the Atlanta churches will be held at the church at 6 tonight, at which Bishop Rodgers and the Rev. Gibson will be present.

With "Prayer" as the theme for the day, Bishop Rodgers, eloquently urged prayer as an absolute necessity in addressing the meeting Tuesday night. The Rev. Gibson conducted the afternoon meeting, especially for women, on the same subject. The Atlanta meetings of the bishops' crusade will come to a close Friday night instead of Sunday, Rev. N. R. High Moore, rector of St. Luke's and chairman of the Atlanta crusade, announced Tuesday.

This is caused by the necessity for Bishop Rodgers' return home, it was said.

Regular meetings will be held as scheduled through that time, however. The subjects for the two remaining days will be "Consistent Living," and "Personal Evangelism," respectively.

The Young People's Service league meetings came to a close Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Moore announced. Meetings, starting Sunday, the rector said, were highly successful.

Atlanta clergy assisting in the meetings are: Rev. N. R. High Moore, rector of St. Luke's; Rev. W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints; Dean Thomas H. Johnston, of St. Philip's cathedral; Rev. Russell K. Smith, of the Church of the Epiphany; Louis Blackwelder, of the Church of the Incarnation; Rev. M. G. Gagne, of the Rev. Charles Holding, of Trinity church, Decatur, and Rev. Horace Chase, of Holy Comforter.

FIST BUNCHES FLY AS SOLONS ARGUE

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—Two congressmen, Tom Blanton, of Texas, and Sol Bloom, of New York, today broke up a house committee meeting by engaging in a hand-to-hand scuffle in which the chief sufferers were the bystanders.

The encounter caused one woman to stand on a chair and pray, resulted in two men spectators coming to blows, and spread confusion and rumors of sanguinary warfare far and wide about the capitol. It was the third time in less than a week that members of the house and senate have engaged in fights without trying them to the point of harming each other.

The rumble began when Bloom took exception to treatment by the committee of a witness, the Rev. H. M. Dawson, of Washington, who was making a statement in opposition to a Sunday blue law for the District of Columbia. Blanton accused Bloom, who is interested in several New York motion picture interests, Bloom said one of Blanton's statements was "not true." Blanton countered with a lunge at his antagonist and when they were separated a moment later the Texas hant the New Yorker pinned down to the committee table.

CLOTURE BLOCKS BANK FILIBUSTER

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—For the first time in history the senate today invoked on a purely domestic question a drastic cloture rule limiting debate to one hour to each senator.

The measure affected was the conference report on the branch banking bill, the adoption of which tomorrow will be the last legislative step in a controversy which has engaged the attention of congress for several years.

The vote by which a filibuster on the bill was cut off was 65 to 18, or nine more than the two-thirds majority, to bring into force the debate limiting rule which was adopted in 1917 and which had been invoked only twice before—once in 1919 on the treaty of Versailles, and again in 1923 on the resolution for American adherence to the world court.

Choate said the effect of Wilson's utterances in the fall of 1912 and after his election had a pronounced detrimental influence on stocks of 11 kinds. The value of Ford stock at the time of the election was $100 a share, he said. It fell to $75 a share by the end of 1913, he said, and he said he had lost $100,000 in the deal.

WILSON SPEECHES AFFECTED SHARES OF FORD COMPANY

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—Woodrow Wilson's campaign speeches in 1912 had a sufficiently disquieting effect on the stock market to warrant an evaluation of only $4,000 a share on stock of the Ford Motor company, Arthur O. Choate, investment banker of New York, testified today in the case in which the treasury seeks to collect back taxes from minority stockholders in the Ford company.

SOUTH CAROLINA BILL HITS MOBS

Columbia, S. C., February 15.—(AP)—Prosecutions for presentments or indictments of persons implicated in a lynching case would be authorized in any county where the state at the discretion of the attorney general, without regard to the location of the lynching, according to a joint resolution introduced today by Senator James Hammond, of Richland county.

The joint resolution, which would amend that part of the constitution relating to crime and punishment, would also render any county liable to exemplary damages of $10,000 to the estate of any officer or citizen killed in defending a prisoner against a mob. Exemplary damages of $2,000 now in force against the county for the estate of a person lynched are retained by Senator Hammond's proposed amendment.

The governor would be directed, by the bill, to remove from office any sheriff or deputy from whose custody a prisoner has been taken by lawless force and killed or subjected to bodily harm.

The senate adjourned at 2 o'clock to meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MUSIC IS URGED TO STOP SUICIDES BY GALLI-CURCI

Chicago, February 15.—More musical notes would mean less suicide notes, in the opinion of Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci, the prima donna.

To a group of women musicians who greeted her upon her arrival in Chicago Tuesday, she said:

It would be better if more young people loved music. I think there would not be so many suicides.

NEW YORK RADIO STATION CANCELS AIMEE'S ADDRESS

New York, February 15.—(AP)—Because directors of radio station WNYC at the Hotel Roosevelt, decided it would be "bad policy" to allow Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, to speak over their station, her scheduled addresses on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week have been cancelled, it was announced today.

The directors of the station said Mrs. McPherson had been asked to deliver a lecture for a place to deliver her radio talks.

The Greatest Barrier to Health—Waste Matter in the System

Orlando, Fla.—"I have tried many well-known liver pills but have never found any to equal Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I think they are the finest regulator of the stomach, liver and bowels that anyone can take. If taken as directed they will keep a person's system so regulated that there is but very little other medicine required."—Mrs. Minnie Lingould, 742 W. Coal Operators And Miners Face Gap in Meeting

Miami, Fla., February 15.—(AP)—A cross fire of proposal and opinion offered by miners and operators today in explanation of their views toward the drafting of a new wage agreement in the central competitive bituminous coal field served definitely to reveal the gap that must be bridged before common ground is found.

Led by their spokesman, President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, the miners laid their convention instructions before the operators. These instructions call for the best possible contract based on "no reduction" of wages.

The operators met the miners' request with a proposal that a continuous wage scale be negotiated on a basis of competition with non-union mines in West Virginia and Kentucky. Continuous negotiations would then be placed under control of a board composed of mediators, operators and miners. The proposal was read to the conference by W. H. Haskins, of Ohio.

Tremors Cause Heavy Damages In Jugo-Slavia

Belgrade, February 15.—(AP)—Jugo-Slavia, along the Adriatic coast and far into the interior was dealt deadly damage by a great earthquake Sunday, which took toll of probably several hundred lives.

Communications are such in the stricken territory it is impossible to obtain an accurate idea of how widespread the shocks were, or how extensive the loss of lives and property. Expeditions have started out from the capital and other centers of population to the afflicted regions, which include parts of Dalmatia, Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The earth shocks were felt severely as far inland as Sarajevo, but the most widespread damage occurred apparently along the hilly territory paralleling the coast for several score miles.

GENERAL MOTORS STOCK OFFERED

New York, February 15.—(AP)—An issue of $25,000,000 in 7 per cent preferred stock for the General Motors corporation, will be placed on the market by J. P. Morgan & Co. The proceeds will be used to increase the company's working cash.

The stock, which represents the first public financing since 1920, will be offered at $120 a share.

The present issue brings the outstanding preferred stock of the company up to a total of $134,000,000. On this amount, the ratio of earnings is estimated at more than six times dividend requirements.

Looking NOW!

Find the Twins; $7,000 in cash prizes divided into 50 prizes is offered in this unique competition by The Atlanta Constitution.

YOU CAN WIN $3,000---HOW TO WIN!

CLUES

At first glance, all the young ladies look alike. BUT YOU ARE ASKED TO FIND THE TWINS THAT ARE CLOTHED EXACTLY ALIKE. Now then, upon closer examination you will find a difference in their wearing apparel. Have they all earrings or necklaces? How about their coats and hats? Are they trimmed the same? Some have bands on the brim and crowns, others have not. Maybe the difference is just the buttonhole in the lapel of the coat.

Just look closely—make sure that you have found the Twins, then send in your answer. Somebody who finds the right Twins is going to win a big cash prize. Make that somebody be YOU!

Here's a chance to sneak up on old man Hard Luck, hand him a real wallop and walk off with a fortune in prizes.

This is one of the greatest arrays of Cash Prizes that have ever been offered in an Atlanta Constitution Puzzle Contest. That's what it is, folks—and you can be a winner. The prizes range from $2 to $35, and from $35 to $3,000.

Think of it! You can win as much as $3,000. Yes, sir, $7,000 in cash prizes may be won in this interesting puzzle contest, and will be awarded promptly after March 19th. There will be 50 winners and the First Prize, the golden opportunity, $3,000 IN CASH.

Starring Dulcie Jayne

By VIRGINIA TRACY.

SYNOPSIS.
Cornelia Marsh, employed in the scenario department of Hertzog's Perfection motion picture studio at Fort Lee, New Jersey, learns with sorrow that Henry Hertzog, the head of the department, has been fired by Lyman Hertzog, son of the owner of the studio. Everyone knows that Lyman is jealous of Henry because he is in love with Dulcie Jayne, the star of the studio, but Dulcie seems to prefer her director, Daniel K. Leland, to Mr. Hertzog. Mr. Hertzog suggests to Lyman that they feature Leland as an actor as well as a director and this causes a quarrel between father and son. Old Mr. Hertzog suffers a stroke of apoplexy as a result and Lyman is left in charge of the studio.

INSTALLMENT XXI. THE DARK WOMAN.

Dulcie looked down at Leland as he moved along, leaning a little on the sorrel, still smoking and still studying his script, the silver gleaming with insolent indifference in the thick waves of his hair. She watched him stoop and pick up a corner of a page which so much mauling had torn loose. Bold in red capitals stood out a subtitle.

WHEN THE CAT'S AWAY . . .

and beneath ran the ordinary black type of the scene—
Now that his father has left him, George falls an easy prey to the schemers. As they push him to the wall they assert their right to the option which he has denied them. He therefore seals his fate by destroying the compact with his own hand. . . . George was a character, newly introduced by the feature writers when the picture was absolutely on the point of being abandoned, had been supposing he had already dug out by the roots; this cropping up again of the noxious weed instantly caught his attention. Then, as he automatically read and reread the offensive scrap, both Dulcie and the sorrel felt him stiffen.

There, opposite the sign toward which he had been steering, he stopped dead. "Whales and asses!" It was hardly more than an amazed breath. "What a whale of an ass I've been!" "Dad," she cried. "You've found a way!"

"I've found—Cruise's footprint." "It was Friday's, but go on."

"The footprint of fate, then—the sign at the crossroads. By God, Kit, our sail!"

He wouldn't tell her his idea till he'd thought it out. Let her get along, now, and leave it to him! "But, Kit, I see three ships sailing in—"

His dragging whistle was that of a man deep in scheming.

"And what was in these ships all three. On Christmas day, on Christmas day—?"

Breaking into teasing, triumphant laughter, like a boy's, he actually shook her in the saddle. "Christmas day in the morning's a fine time. How would it do to be married on Dulcie?"

She peered down at him, incredulously.

"For if it suits you, I know a poor fellow it would suit, sure enough."

She did not speak. But you know how the dawn comes up the sky and floods it with effulgent rose. So she was flooded—face, throat and forehead. One hand sought the talisman in her breast; the other caught his and pressed it against that secret over her heart.

And as a matter of fact, suspense did hold his breath; a slow depth of color struggled up his pale skin.

"I've done it," she told him. "I've spoken the fatal word." She tried to smile. "I've thrown in my lot with yours."

There was a pause. And no doubt about it, a surcharged pause. A pause into which a serious, inexperienced, romantically near-sighted woman might read exactly what she pleased. Her nervousness becoming really terrible she felt it up to her to giggle again.

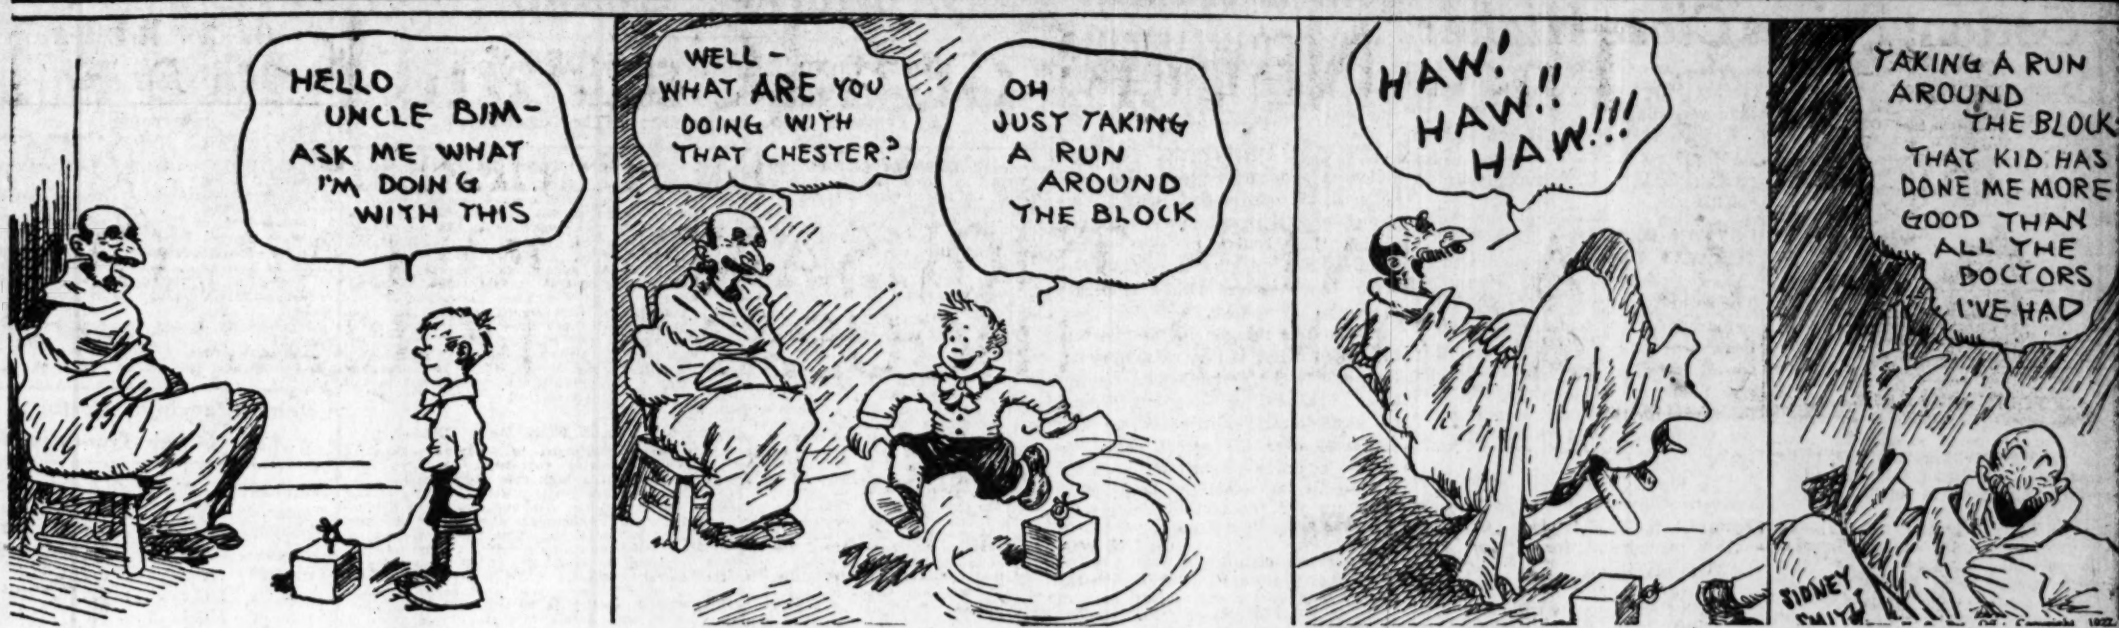

Leland came close against the side of the cab. Untroubled by the cordial attention of the luncheon parties thickening on the terrace, he relaxed like a spent fighter, no longer braced against worse than death. Letting his cloak of iron languor fall from his shoulders he slowly bowed his head over the large, warm hand of his savior till his curls touched its moist glove, against which his mouth sank in one kiss—the reverent kind, of course, pressed on the three stripes of black embroidery.

All the way up her decent, long-sleeved arm to her heart she was aware of his lips. There she sat, without breathing. She had never thought, in Peoria, that this was going to happen to her. Though she had had, like other women, dreams—

MEAT WHO MADE THE WORLD

King Richard I.

FEARED

Tulsa, Okla., February 15.—(AP)—Producers acted today to place a curb on the enormous flow of petroleum from wells in the Seminole Oil district, which has placed Oklahoma again in the lead as the chief oil producing state and raised the specter of over-production.

After a two hours session of operators of the Midcontinent Oil & Gas association, the appointment of a committee of five operators charged with working out "some practical method for the alleviation of the problem of production in the area" was announced. The committee was named by producers of the field.

Enormous production in the Seminole field has overtaken pipeline and storage facilities, necessitating drastic action. Then thousands of barrels of crude oil were run into earthen pits yesterday, when production struck the unprecedented level of 300,400 barrels a day, and it was estimated that the capacity of the pipelines had been passed by 50,000 barrels.

Several producers already have sought to curb production by taking off air and gas pressure to the application of which the startling increase is attributed. The Carter Oil company strikingly illustrated how much air pressure has increased output. By applying it to the well during the week end, which had been producing 3,000 barrels a day, it increased the well's flow 3,000 barrels.

SPRING VEGETABLES BEGINNING TO MOVE

Fifty and a half million bushels of potatoes have been raised for seed for the coming season, the Atlanta branch of the federal bureau of agriculture declares today, in its weekly market report. This is about 13 per cent more than was set aside for planting last year, it was stated.

Around 52,000,000 bushels have been saved for food in the locality where grown, which is a little below the quantity reserved for that purpose last season, it was stated. Combined carload shipments from the late potato territory to January 3, was 109,500 cars, which was about the same as last year, the report pointed out. By February 12, however, these 25 states registered a net increase of almost 5,000 cars over movement to the same time last year.

With new potatoes coming in, the outlook for rather heavier shipments from now to the end of the season, with possibly no great advance in price of old potatoes, the report said. Some rumors are heard, it was further stated, that the southern states south of Texas and Florida, may not plant so heavily as last year and in that event northern stocks should have a better outlet.

"Signs of approaching spring were appearing in the produce market," the report said. "Very light express shipments of asparagus were moving, and Florida tomatoes were becoming a feature in some cities. Points on the east coast of Florida, particularly southern states south of Texas and Florida, may not plant so heavily as last year and in that event northern stocks should have a better outlet."

While Arizona was reported to have more than 7,000 acres in spring lettuce as against 1,800 last year, South Carolina's acreage this year has been cut in two, the present estimate being 730. South Carolina shipped 375 cars of lettuce during the year ended last year and 740 in the spring of 1925, the report said.

THE FAIR ROSAMOND, WHO PLAYED SO CONSPICUOUS A PART IN THE LIFE OF KING HENRY, WAS THE DAUGHTER OF AN ENGLISH NOBLEMAN NAMED CLIFFORD. LORD CLIFFORD'S FINE OLD CASTLE WAS SITUATED IN A MOST ROMANTIC AND BEAUTIFUL SPOT IN THE VALLEY OF THE WYE. IT WAS HERE THAT ROSAMOND SPENT HER CHILDHOOD AND GREW TO LOVELY YOUNG WOMANHOOD. AND IT WAS IN THIS ROMANTIC SPOT THAT HENRY, THEN A VERY YOUNG MAN, MET HER. ALL THIS OCCURRED BEFORE HENRY THOUGHT OF ELEANORA AS A WIFE, AND THERE IS THE POSSIBILITY THAT HENRY MAY HAVE BEEN SECRETLY MARRIED TO ROSAMOND, BUT THE WEDDING—FOR REASONS OF STATE—MAY HAVE BEEN KEPT A PROFOUND SECRET.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

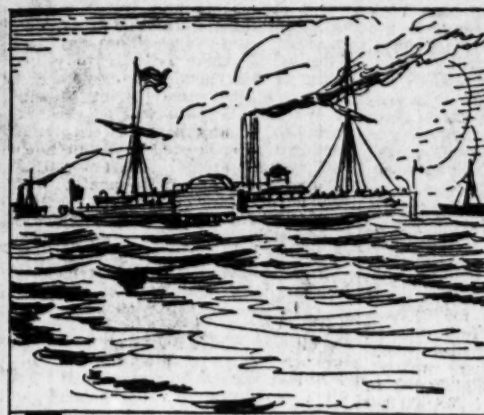

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

DURING MARCH, 1861, THREE SOUTHERN COMMISSIONERS WERE IN WASHINGTON TO NEGOTIATE FOR RECOGNITION OF CONFEDERATE INDEPENDENCE. KNOWING THEIR RECALL WOULD BE FOLLOWED BY AN ATTACK ON FORT SUMTER, SECRETARY OF STATE SEWARD, ON HIS OWN RESPONSIBILITY, TRIED TO KEEP THEM FROM LEAVING THE CAPITAL BY REPEATED ASSURANCES THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD EVACUATE FORT SUMTER.

Lincoln's Decision.

BUT PRESIDENT LINCOLN DECIDED THAT HIS OATH OF OFFICE LEFT HIM NO CHOICE OF PARLEYING WITH THE CONFEDERACY, AND ON APRIL 1ST, HE GAVE ORDERS FOR SHIPS BEARING TROOPS AND PROVISIONS TO SAIL TO THE RELIEF OF FORT SUMTER.

A WEEK LATER, THE RELIEF SHIPS LEFT NEW YORK. LINCOLN NOTIFIED GOVERNOR PICKENS OF SOUTH CAROLINA THAT THE FLEET WAS COMING WITH PROVISIONS FOR SUMTER, BUT THAT NO SOLDIERS OR AMMUNITION WOULD BE LANDED AT THE FORT UNLESS IT WAS ATTACKED BY THE STATE.

HEARING OF LINCOLN'S PLANS, PRESIDENT JEFFERSON DAVIS OF THE CONFEDERACY AND HIS CABINET HELD A CONFERENCE IN WHICH IT WAS DECIDED THAT THE POSSESSION OF A FORT BY FEDERAL FORCES WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE NEW SOUTHERN REPUBLIC WAS NOT TO BE TOLERATED.

TOMORROW—THE CONFEDERACY TAKES ACTION.

The Day in Finance

By
R. L. BARNUM

Operations To Start an Old-Fashioned Spring Bull Market Are Seen in Day's Maneuvers.

New York, February 15.—With Standard Oil of New Jersey declaring another 12 1/2 cents extra dividend in addition to the regular quarterly of $1.00, shares were taken in hand. In other directions there was profit-taking such as usually occurs on Tuesday in bull market. In a bull market there is a strong week-end closing to attract buying Monday, then a strong market Monday with profit-taking on Tuesday. To close observers in all street there is not the slightest doubt but that this time-honored formula is being carried out by powerful interests in an effort to start an old-fashioned spring bull stock market. All of the signs of such efforts are present.

One of the main factors in the plans now being carried out for a bull stock market is the outlook for an abundance of easy money. With the bond market slowing down because of existing high bond prices, idle money seeking employment is going into the stock market. The banks called $20,000,000 loans before noon, causing an advance in call money to 4 1/2 per cent from

Nature's Freak

The Strangest, Queerest, Most Remarkable Freak of the Animal Kingdom Ever Captured

The Size of a Lion and as Fierce as a Jungle Tiger

Now on Display

Captured by "Idaho Bill," who in his travels and escapades has covered more than 100,000 miles in a Dodge Brothers' panel Truck, which is used as transportation for the animals he captures.

The peculiar beast is without name, having dumbfounded the famous Ringling Brothers and other animal experts. "Idaho Bill" is now on his way to the White House to present this strange animal to President Coolidge for its disposal and keeping in some U. S. zoo.

NOTHING LIKE IT HAS EVER BEEN SEEN BEFORE

You are cordially invited to see the animal, which will be on display in the showrooms of the F. E. Maffett, Inc.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

the opening rate of 4. However, this advance was considered merely temporary in connection with midmonth dividend and interest requirements. On all soft spots there is the best sort of buying going on in New York Central. Yielding only around 4 3/4 per cent at the present price level, evidently New York Central is being bought for something more than the 7 per cent annual dividend. It is possible that the company expects to raise needed working capital through the sale of stock which will mean "rights" to those holding the outstanding stock.

Trade Balance. A favorable trade balance of $60,000,000 is reported by Washington in the country January merchandise, foreign trade exports being $410,000,000, with imports $350,000,000. This compares with a favorable trade balance of $106,000,000 for December and $377,000,000 for the 12 months ended with December. Compared with December there was an increase last month of $2,000,000 in imports and a decrease of $58,000,000 in exports. For the seven months of the government's fiscal year up to the end of January, there was a favorable trade balance of $533,000,000 against $363,000,000 for the corresponding period of last year.

Elders of New York Canners preferred have received the following notice from White Wolf & Co., the company's bankers, which is considered by Wall street equivalent to a formal announcement that the preferred dividend of normal market conditions through adjustment of supply and demand, conservation of cash resources of New York Canners is of paramount importance to stockholders and the board of directors will probably consider it necessary to defer payment of dividends on the preferred stock. This is the second year that the board of directors has refused to pay a dividend on the preferred stock. The first came with the reduction in the 1926 earnings of American Can.

Wabash Advance. All sorts of rumors are being circulated to explain the advance in Wabash, most of them having to do with a fight between the Kuhn Loeb-Lorée interests on one side and the Eastern

E. WILSON, Adjutant.

Trunk lines on the other, which are opposed to Lore's fifth trunk line. After reorganizing Wabash and seeing that company begin to get on its feet it is hardly likely Kuhn Loeb & Co. would stand idle and watch outside buying of these stocks. There is some question as to just how essential Wheeling & Lake Erie is to either Lore or his enemies in any merger plan, but the same cannot be said of Wabash. Wabash will be the real backbone of any new eastern trunk combination sponsored by Kuhn Loeb. Chrysler's annual report for 1926 is expected early next month, with the surplus for dividends showing around $6 for the stock. The company is now paying $3. Talk of an increase to $4 has been revived.

Tomorrow's weekly statement of average daily production of crude oil is expected to show another large weekly increase to new high record for all time. This is not exactly bullish information on the oil shares. Rumors are being circulated that ultra-conservative shareholders of the United States Steel common owning a substantial interest in the company, are planning to oppose the proposed 40 per cent stock dividend when the stockholders vote on the question at the April annual meeting. It is safe to predict now, however, that there is not the slightest chance of this opposition getting anywhere.

FREIGHT LOADINGS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—Freight loadings of the week ended February 5 totaled 870,822 cars. The American Railway association reported today, an increase of 56,401 over the corresponding week last year, or 6.5 per cent over the preceding week last year. Coal loadings totaled 219,113, an increase of 43,149 cars over the same week last year; grain and grain products 48,154, an increase of 5,489; miscellaneous freight 226,926, a decrease of 11,851; merchandise and less than carload lots 257,081, an increase of 8,754; forest products 770, a decrease of 3,335; ore, 11,630 cars, an increase of 1,691, and coke 12,389, a decrease of 6,463.

MERGER IS PROTESTED BY ST. PAUL RECEIVERS

Salem, Ore., February 15.—(United Press)—Receivers for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway today protested to Governor J. L. Patterson against the proposed merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroad systems. In a telegram to the governor, H. E. Byram, representing the Milwaukee interests, said the receivers of that line believed that consolidation of the two great systems is a matter vitally affecting the development of the northwest, and the maintenance of adequate and efficient railroad transportation in this section as well as the interests of the Milwaukee railroad.

Byram asked that Oregon withhold reaching a conclusion until he is given an opportunity to present the other side of the question to Governor Patterson.

Park Bill Signed.

Washington, February 15.—(AP)—President Coolidge signed today a bill establishing a national military park at Fredericksburg, Va., and marking and preserving historical points connected with the battles of Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, including Salem Church, Va.

BROOKHAVEN HOLDUPS UNABLE TO RAISE BOND

Decatur, Ga., February 15.—(Special)—Unable to raise two bonds of $5,000 each, W. B. Cavender, of Beaman avenue, and William Sewell, of Bedford place, Atlanta, remained tonight in DeKalb county jail, charged with complicity in the unsuccessful robbery of a Brookhaven store, while officers of Fulton and DeKalb counties continued their efforts to connect the youths with a series of robberies, which have terrorized the north section of Fulton county during recent weeks.

J. Sam Boyce, their companion in the attempted robbery of the Burnham pharmacy, was shot to death in a gun fight with Oscar Powell, DeKalb county policeman, who surprised the alleged burglars in the store. Cavender is alleged to have fired the three times at the policeman. County officials of both counties tonight were working on a theory that the youths, together with Boyce, have been implicated in a number of other holdups in this section and Fulton county police officials questioned them today at the county jail. They reported, however, that they had been unable to elicit any information of value, both youths maintaining that they were forced into the attempted robbery which resulted in the death of their companion.

DEMOCRATIC SUITS OVER ELECTION PLOT DISMISSED

Louisville, February 15.—(AP)—A "conspiracy to undermine the very foundation of popular government" was carried out in part but was not sufficient to change the result of the 1925 municipal and county elections. Circuit Judges Lafon Allen and Davis W. Edwards held in an opinion today dismissing 36 democratic election suits. Counsel for the democratic contestants announced they would take the case to the court of appeals. The decision today was similar to one in the 1923 municipal election contests. The court of appeals reversed the lower court in the 1923 case and unseated the republicans. Governor W. J. Fields then appointed the democratic candidates to the office they had sought in the election.

The democratic candidates, nine for county and 49 for city offices, in November, 1925, election brought suit to oust the republicans on the grounds that their victory was the consummation of a conspiracy to control the election by fraud, intimidation, bribery and violence. An amended petition charging violation of the corrupt practices act by excessive expenditures of money was filed after the limit expired, but was excluded by the court in the opinion today.

P. O. MESSENGER HELD FOR ALLEGED THEFT

Boysie Stokes, special delivery messenger boy of the Atlanta post office, was arrested Tuesday by Inspector Clyde Fleming on charges of mail theft and forgery of a special delivery receipt coupon. A letter alleged to have been stolen by Stokes contained $8, which was to have paid the fare home of an old man, Inspector Fleming said.

TENNESSEE GUNNERS MAKE NEW RECORD

BY G. K. SPENCER.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

San Diego, Calif., February 15.—The United States battleship Tennessee, in confidential gunnery practice, has scored consecutive hits by deliberate plan on a target 16 miles distant. This exceeds every existing record. The record was established last week in the Pacific drill ground off Lower California. The Tennessee was engaged in "a practice at extreme elevation." At no time was the ship within visual sight of its target. The guns were directed by remote service aircraft, and the target was towed by U. S. S. Nevada.

MOTION PICTURE COWBOY IS SLAIN IN REAL GUN DUEL

Universal City, Cal., February 15.—A motion picture cowboy was killed and another wounded in a real gun duel between the two on the Universal studio lot here today. George Emerson, animal trainer and cow puncher, died on the way to the hospital after a bullet from his opponent's gun penetrated his chest. George Wonderly, the other duelist, was treated for a wound in his right hand and then taken to a local jail pending an investigation. Wonderly refused to divulge the cause for the battle.

GENERAL COX SPEAKS AT LION LUNCHEON

Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, commander of the Georgia national guard, was principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions club Tuesday noon, in the Wincoff hotel. General Cox spoke on "The National Defense." Other features on the program included musical selections by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Swagerty and reports of the delegates from Atlanta to the Lions club meeting at Macon Monday in honor of William A. Westfall, international president of Lions. Joseph B. Wolfe, president of the local club, presided.
